

Nixon Plan Calls for Quiet Now

VP Was Busy While Touring West Area

Editor's note: In this season, when presidential hopefuls sprout everywhere, The Associated Press is taking an on-the-spot, closeup look at each contender. Here Arthur Edson, a politician-watcher with 15 years in Washington, gives his report on three days of travel with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential politics is a chancy business, where many plan and scheme and covet but only one is chosen.

And nowhere are plans more carefully thought out and drawn than in the young, bustling political camp of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

To Talk Once

Right now the plans call for Nixon to lie low. He has only one speaking engagement the rest of this year, at a sports award dinner in New York. The big drive comes in January and February.

Ideally, a politician never sees an acquaintance without being able to recall his name immediately, never is asked a question without having a ready answer, complete with statistics, never faces an explosive situation without having previously checked on the location of the fire escapes.

No Notes, Promoters

No politician succeeds completely, of course. But Nixon keeps the ideal in mind always. He is a firm believer in political homework.

"There is no such thing as a good, off-the-cuff speech," he will tell you.

Coming from him, this seems surprising. Unless it's an official document from which he wants to quote, he never carries so much as a note with him when he's making a speech. Yet Nixon prepares his thoughts, if not his precise words, carefully. A manuscript, he believes, gets between him and the audience.

He is convinced that politicians who use mechanical prompts on television are wrong. "Your eyes get that glassy stare," he says, and adds with a grin: "People tend to think you're cockeyed anyway without your actually looking that way."

Kept Busy Constantly

This reporter has just returned from three days of campaigning with Nixon through snow in Wisconsin, rain in Indiana, fog in the East.

Technically, this was no campaign at all. Nixon hasn't announced whether he will be a presidential candidate, and some humorist on his staff even called this a nonpolitical tour.

But since he was shaking hands and talking with state politicians constantly—one day lasted a full 21 hours—this scarcely could be looked upon as a lark.

Likes Personal Contact

Nixon is at his best in question-and-answer sessions, and don't be surprised if he uses more and more of them as the campaign picks up momentum.

Here homework pays off. Nixon arrived at the Wisconsin cranberry center during an anxious period. Some cranberries have been found contaminated. The whole industry may suffer a knockout blow.

Well, you would have thought Nixon had spent his life in a cranberry bog. He praised them, ate them, and made little jokes about them.

Volcano Hurls Stream Of Lava on Third Day

HONOLULU (AP) — Angry Kilauea volcano belched streams of searing hot lava and sent a gray pall of thick smoke high into the sky today as the eruption roared into its third day.

The 4,000-foot volcano's Kilauea Iki crater showed little sign of abating its fiery temper. Two waterfalls of liquid rock — bright red-orange in daylight — gushed from a 300-yard rift in the crater's inner south wall into its pit some 300 to 500 feet below.

Hot Rocks Blasted

Kilauea Iki—or Little Kilauea—on the southeast side of Hawaii Island some 200 miles southeast of Honolulu, began erupting Saturday night. White-hot rocks were blasted up to 100 feet in the air before they tumbled into the mile-long, mile-wide crater.

Honolulu Star-Bulletin reporter Mark Waters, in a telephone call from the volcano site, said Sunday night. "One huge fountain of erupting lava is pouring tremendous streams of molten rock into the floor of the crater."

He said, "Channels of glowing lava, which at night look like streams of 24-carat liquid gold, drop 300 feet down the inner wall perature dropped below zero in all parts of the state. The lowest reading was at Butte: minus 37.

New Yorkers Will Open Offices for Promoting Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State's first Nixon-for-President organization will open offices here Thursday in Gov. Rockefeller's backyard.

The group's chairman, Peter M. Flanagan, said Sunday: "We have no intention of attempting to obtain delegates from the State of New York."

"I would go further," added Flanagan, "and say that we have no intention of embarrassing anyone in the New York State Republican organization by asking them to take sides."

Flanagan, partner in a brokerage firm, said the group was "not against our governor, we're just for Nixon." He said some members of the group actively supported Rockefeller when he ran for governor last year.

Among those in the Nixon group are Barney Balaban, president of Paramount Pictures Corp.; William E. Robinson, chairman of Coca-Cola Co. and frequent vacation companion of President Eisenhower; G. Montagu Miller, vice president of Young & Rubicam Advertising Agency; author Adela Rogers St. John; Charles Payson, brother-in-law of John Hay Whitney, U. S. ambassador to England; and New York Giants football star Frank Gifford.

County and Towns Get $131,011.15 Per Capita Aid

Ulster County towns and villages will share $131,011.15, part of the distribution of $24,251,411.03 as per capita assistance by the state, it was announced today by State Controller Arthur Levitt.

This payment is the third quarterly installment in the state's 1959-60 fiscal year.

The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 62 cities, 550 villages and 932 towns. Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health), the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of government on a per capita basis, determined in part on the 1950 Federal Census and in part on the results of special censuses taken in 1957 and 1958.

Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3 for each inhabitant.

New Blizzard Hits Rocky Mt. Section

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The weather - sick Rocky Mountains and northern Great Plains coped with a new blizzard today.

Sub-zero temperatures were charted and wind gusts up to 60 m.p.h. were clocked in parts of the Dakotas, Montana and Kansas. Blowing snow reduced visibility to near zero in some localities. Low temperatures included 32 below zero at Butte and -29 at Helena, both in southwestern Montana; -23 Lewiston, Mont., and -14 at Sheridan in northern Wyoming.

Cold wave warnings were posted for most of the Rockies and the Midwest, with sharp drops in temperature and snow in store for more than dozen states.

Cold Wave Will Spread

The cold weather was expected to invade most areas from eastern Wyoming and Colorado, northwest New Mexico, northwest Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri and northwest Illinois.

Below zero readings were predicted for northern states, along with strong northerly winds and snow.

At Scottsbluff, Neb., the temperature dropped from a Sunday afternoon high of 64 to zero by midnight. The temperature in Denver fell 29 degrees in one hour Sunday night.

Helena, Montana capital that took the brunt of a record storm last midweek, reported a 20-inch snow depth with about six inches of new snow.

Air Travel Halted

The new storm dropped two to six inches of new snow over Montana, but all main highways remained open. Air travel was halted, but trains and buses managed to keep near schedule.

In western Montana, authorities were looking for two missing hunters, Fred Miller and Joe Kent of Hamilton, Mont. Officers said they apparently became lost Sunday while hunting with three other men. Snow in the area is 14-16 inches deep.

The snow broke an Idaho Power Co. transmission line between Bannock and Salmon in central Idaho near the Montana-Idaho border. Bannock was without power for more than 10 hours.

Ice gorges built up in the Missouri River at Townsend in south central Montana, and in the Yellowstone River at Glendive in the east. An estimated 60 head of cattle were reported frozen near Townsend as a result of Missouri River water being backed into sloughs by ice jams.

Many Montana schools were closed today.

Cut Income Tax, Says NAM to Up Personal Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prompt congressional action to reduce income taxes was urged today by the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

A thorough revamping of tax rates should boost annual personal incomes by at least 40 billion dollars within eight years, the NAM said.

The views were presented to the House Ways and Means committee by John C. Davidson, vice president of the NAM's Government Finance Division. The committee opened a five-weeks tax study hearing today.

Davidson did not suggest specific amounts for tax reductions.

Joseph Sneed, a Cornell University law professor who believes in cutting income tax rates, also testified. He had sent recommendations in writing to the committee.

Sneed's suggestions included a proposal that the maximum rate applied to individuals be held to 91 per cent, instead of the present 94 per cent and that "the starting point might well be moved to a point lower than the present 20 per cent."

Sneed also said the income tax structure would be improved by the entire or partial elimination of corporate tax.

After gathering the technical testimony, all by invited witnesses, the committee will prepare recommendations to be thrashed out at regular legislative hearings after Congress reconvenes in January.

Girl, 8, Becomes Ill From Fumes, Saves Her Family

An eight-year-old Hyde Park girl may have saved her parents, brother and two sisters from death early Saturday morning when she became violently ill from gas fumes and woke her mother.

Dawn Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gray of West Dorsey Lane, called her mother about 7 a. m., saying that she was sick.

Mrs. Gray went to her assistance and herself became ill, calling her husband, an automobile mechanic.

Gray woke William, 10, Donna, 6, and Debra, 3, bundled the family into his car and rushed them to St. Francis Hospital where Dawn was admitted. The others were treated and released.

It was reported that the family became ill from leaking gas fumes from a furnace.

15 Killed In Highway Accidents

20 Lives Are Lost During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Fifteen persons were killed in automobile accidents in New York State over the weekend. Hunting mishaps took two lives.

The toll for all types of accidents in the state during the period from 6 o'clock Friday night to midnight Sunday was 20.

Two persons were killed when an automobile crashed into a parked police car in Chautauque Saturday.

Ernest Thorpe, 29, of Jamestown, was struck while standing in front of a Chautauque County Sheriff's Department car. Two deputies had stopped him for questioning. He was hitchhiking.

The other victim, Milton Johnson, 18, of Jamestown, was a passenger in the car that struck the police cruiser.

Near Lowville Saturday, Clifford C. Chepwin, 42, of Liverpool, sitting in a tree, was shot and killed by another hunter who had mistaken Chepwin for a bear.

Ward Parmelee, about 35, of Mount Morris, was drowned when a boat capsized Saturday in a strong wind on Cranberry Lake in the Adirondacks, where he was hunting.

Enos Centerbar, 80, of Moreau, was burned fatally Saturday when ashes from his pipe ignited his clothing while he sat in the living room of his home in Moreau.

Mrs. Viola Lee, 72, of Binghamton, was burned fatally Sunday when her nightgown caught fire. She apparently had been smoking a cigarette.

Other deaths in accidents:

Waterford—Mrs. Reth Smith, 55, struck by a car Friday night.

Oswego—Walter G. McCracken Jr., 16, hit by a truck Friday night.

Chatham—Joanne Bonifacio, 17, Ghent, car struck a telephone pole Friday night.

Hastings-on-Hudson—Isadore Tannenbaum, The Bronx, three-car crash on the Sawmill River Parkway Friday night.

Reville—James J. McNeill, 52, tractor overturned on his farm Friday night.

Endicott—Mrs. Shirley Lindsey, about 24, Binghamton, car overturned Saturday.

Hudson—Alden E. Hammerle, 23, car crashed down an embankment and overturned Saturday.

Syracuse—John W. Holdridge, 17, Chittenango, two-car collision Saturday night.

Sheridan—Isaac Lowe, 68, address unknown, struck by a car Saturday night.

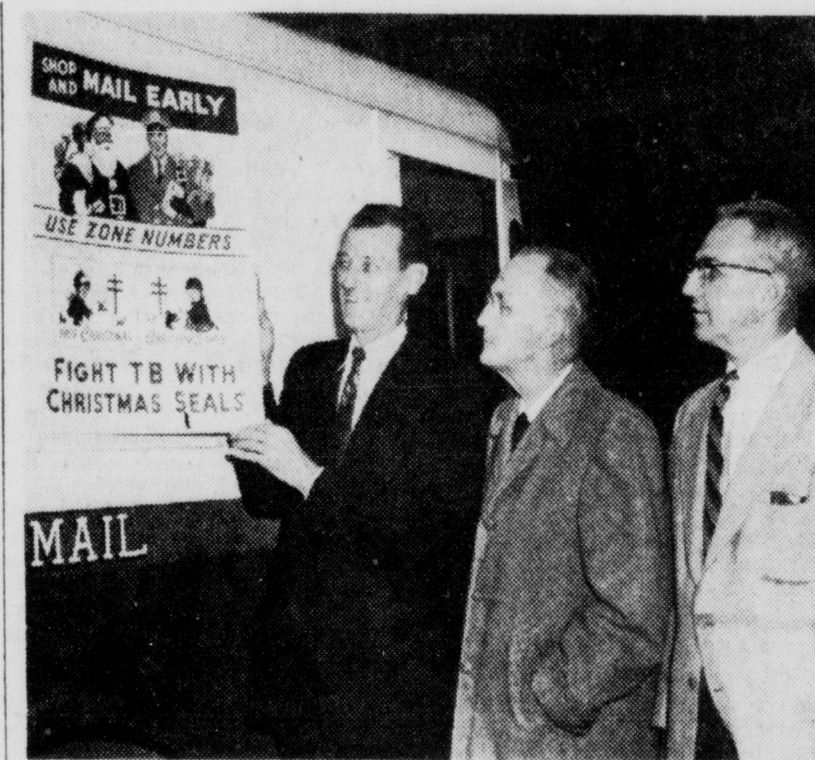

Hoosick Falls—John J. Carroll Jr., car hit two concrete posts Sunday.

Chazy—Albert M. Phaneuf, 28, car crashed into a tree Sunday.

Central Valley—Arthur Greco, 34, Mount Vernon, motorcycle and a car collided Sunday.

Canton—Calvin B. Grange, 18, car overturned in a ditch Sunday.

Warrensburg—Philip DeLauria Sr., 35, Thurman, car plunged into a shallow creek Sunday night.

MAIL EARLY, says Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk, who also advises full use of Christmas Seals. Both points are stressed in a poster series some of which will be carried on local mail trucks as the one he recently placed. With him are (l-r) Edmund P. Rochford, vice-president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, and Kenneth S. Williams, local superintendent of mails. (Freeman photo)

Rocky Says Answer Is Expand Economy

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller turned today to one of organized labor's main concerns — automation — and said the key to solving this problem was to expand the economy.

A healthier economy, Rockefeller said, could provide the jobs for workers displaced by automation.

Automation refers to the technological developments in industry that result in more production from fewer workers. It is at the root of many of today's labor-management disputes.

Rockefeller's death with the subject in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the New York State AFL-CIO.

Toured California

Over the weekend, he completed a four-day tour through California, Oregon, and to Seattle and Boise, Idaho, where he was reported to have impressed Republicans with his appeal as a possible Republican nominee for president.

California and Oregon are regarded as strongholds of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Rockefeller's chief rival for the GOP nomination.

Observers felt that, although the New York governor did not create a surge to his banner in these states, he perhaps succeeded in undermining some of Nixon's strength.

"I'm for Nixon, but—" said a Pasadena, Calif., party leader after getting a look at the smiling and bouncy Rockefeller.

Rocky Still in Doubt

During his travels, Rockefeller also narrowed the date when he will announce whether he will run for the nomination.

"I would think there will be an announcement somewhere between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15," he told newsmen.

Previously he had said only it would be after he had presented his program to the 1960 state Legislature, which convenes in January.

To the labor leaders assembled here, Rockefeller said there was no question but that new machines and new methods created more jobs, higher earnings and a better standard of living for all.

"The real problem is one of transition, a transition which seeks to avoid human hardship," he said.

Rockefeller noted that recently he had proposed creation of a national study group — a favorite (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Plane Wreckage Seen, Hope Slim For 36 and Crew

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A National Airlines search pilot spotted the wreckage of a four-engine passenger plane in the Gulf of Mexico today, leaving little hopes for the 36 passengers and a crew of six.

The Miami-to-New Orleans airliner lost contact with radio pilots shortly after midnight.

The crash was the second involving a National Airlines plane in six years. Another plane crashed in the gulf in 1953 taking 46 lives.

Charles H. Ruby, chief pilot for National, spotted the plane's wreckage about 108 miles east-southeast of New Orleans. His radio report said there was no sign of survivors.

The Coast Guard's earlier report said its planes had spotted an oil slick and life raft, but no survivors.

The plane, National Flight 967, vanished in a fog that enveloped the area so quickly that Moisant International Airport at New Orleans had to amend its midnight (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Egan Says Plan Is to Save Face

Claim Local Staff Could Handle Case

The Appellate Division today denied a request for postponement of argument on the appeal in the Edwin W. Ashby case and set the argument down for Friday at 10 a. m. The arguments had originally been scheduled for Thursday in Appellate Court in Albany.

The request for postponement of the Ashby appeal was made by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins, who asked for an adjournment of at least a week because he will be engaged in a civil matter in Pittsburgh. Leonard E. Reisman, chief counsel in the special prosecutor's office, argued for the prosecution.

Say Reversal Feared

Opposition to the postponement was made by N. LeVan Haver and John E. Egan, trial counsel for Ashby.

In an affidavit by Attorney Egan it is charged that delay is sought by the Special Prosecutor because a reversal in the Ashby case would probably affect the chances of securing additional appropriation by the legislature for continuance of the Ulster County probe.

In the affidavit by Egan, it is charged that the postponement is not sought in good faith but is "merely a delaying tactic to try to postpone a decision of the appeal in the Ashby case until sometime in March 1960, after the legislature would have adjourned," and he further states in his affidavit submitted to the Appellate Division that your deponent stated (to Wilfred R. Caron, a special Assistant Attorney General on the staff of Special prosecutor Bernard Tompkins) that your deponent (Egan) stated that the Prosecutor knew, after studying appellant's brief for two weeks, that the Ashby conviction was bound to be reversed and the indictment could not possibly be sustained. Deponent pointed out to Caron that the Prosecutor also knew that if his case was argued on November 19th, as scheduled, it would in all probability be decided sometime in December."

Give Two Reasons

"It was further pointed out that a reversal of the Ashby case in December would prove embarrassing to the prosecution for two reasons, i.e. (1) it was the only case tried in the Ulster County investigation despite the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars and the lapse of nineteen months, and (2) such a result was bound to adversely affect the Prosecutor's application to the legislature for additional funds to continue the investigation, because the legislature (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Union Man, City Inspector Held In Meat Cheating

NEW YORK (AP)—A union official and a city inspector have been arrested in a crackdown on price cheating by meat markets.

Authorities say meat dealers protected by inspectors have chiseled city housewives of millions of dollars a year.

City Investigation Commissioner Louis Kaplan said Sunday meat and poultry shops, particularly in poorer neighborhoods, cheated by switching labels, rigging scales and upgrading inferior meats "into cases worse than what goes into dog food."

Kaplan declined to name specific stores involved. He said some meat dealers paid $50 a month to inspectors who knew sales were being rigged.

Charged with extortion and attempted bribery were Bert Smith, 39, a markets inspector, and Emanuel Lapidus, 49, president, secretary and treasurer of Local 662, Salesmen and Poultry Workers Union. Each was held in $50,000 bail.

Kaplan called Lapidus "the mastermind of a huge city-wide ring." He said several other persons have been subpoenaed to appear before a Brooklyn grand jury.

Cranberry Growers Ask U.S. Help for Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national cranberry stew bubbled again today with a new protest from growers.

Chicago health officials were holding a shipment of Wisconsin cranberries which they said were contaminated with the same kind of weed killer found earlier on some West Coast berries.

C. P. Olsson, president of Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a national cranberry cooperative, asked President Eisenhower to declare as disaster areas the cranberry-growing states of Washington, Oregon, Wisconsin, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

In a telegram sent from Plymouth, Mass., to the vacation White House at Augusta, Ga., Olsson asked Eisenhower to "provide immediate relief to thousands of small farmers for losses caused by the unnecessary, untimely and imprudent action" of Welfare Secretary Arthur S. Flemming.

At a news conference last Monday, Flemming said traces of a weed killer had been found in some of the cranberries grown in the Pacific Northwest. He said the weed killer, Aaminotriazole, had caused cancer in rats when it was included in their diet.

The secretary advised against eating the berries until tests could be made to be sure they contained no traces of Aaminotriazole.

The cranberry growers immediately protested that Flemming had pulled the rug from under them just before the holidays.

Two shipments of cranberries grown in Oregon were seized last week by health authorities. On Saturday, the Chicago Board of Health seized 20 tons of cranberries grown in Wisconsin and impounded them. The board said its tests showed four of six samples of the shipment were contaminated with the weed killer.

Sales of all cranberries and cranberry products were barred in Chicago.

Flemming will meet with cranberry growers here Wednesday.

In Training Exercise

Theron Avery, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Avery of 19 Chilton Avenue, Ellenville, serving aboard a dock landing ship participated in a Pacific Fleet amphibious training exercise, Oct. 24, off Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Purpose of the operation, known as "Eagle Eye," was to insure the continued readiness and high state of training of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Forces.

Participates in Exercise

Marine Acting Cpl. Lawrence D. Johnson, son of Mrs. Myrtle Johnson of 25 E. Union Street, took part in an amphibious landing exercise, Nov. 15-18, at Almeria, Spain, with members of the Third Battalion, Eighth Marine Regiment.

This unit is the amphibious striking arm of the U. S. Sixth Fleet on duty in the Mediterranean area.

The exercise at Almeria demonstrated the Marine Corps' vertical assault doctrine, employing helicopters along with conventional landing craft to assault targets on a mythical enemy-held beach.

Completes Training

Judson Bruce Hornbeck, airman apprentice, U. S. Navy, is spending a 14-day leave at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Corcoran of 64 Broadway, Kingston. Airman Judson enlisted at the local Navy Recruiting Station, Central Post Office Building, Room 209, and was transferred to the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., for recruit training. Upon completion of leave, he will report to the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., for training as an aviation structural mechanic.

On Landing Ship

Edwin B. Culbert, engineer third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Culbert of Exopus, is serving aboard the medium landing ship operating out of Norfolk, Va. Scheduled to be decommissioned in early December, the USS Lakeland has spent most of her time operating in the Bahamas as a unit of the Atlantic Fleet Service Force.

Barge Canal System To Close Dec. 4th

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The New York State Barge Canal system will be closed Dec. 4, for the winter season, unless freezing weather requires an earlier shutdown. Nov. 21 is the deadline for some vessels.

The State Public Works Department said today that any vessels or barges in the canal after 4 p. m. Dec. 4 would be ordered to tie up at the nearest canal terminal.

Wooden vessels, unprotected by Dec. 4 would be ordered to tie up at the nearest canal terminal.

Wooden vessels, unprotected by steel sheathing, will not be allowed in the canal system after midnight Saturday, unless propelled by a power unit that will remain with the vessel continuously through the trip.

Ice formations sometimes damaged wooden vessels.

The canal will reopen in middle or late April next year.

Tompkins' Move

tors would find it difficult to justify giving him further funds in the face of his do-nothing record and court reversals," the affidavit of Egan continues.

In requesting an adjournment of the affidavit of Special Prosecutor Tompkins states that "although the defendant was convicted (perjury) on February 16, 1959, nothing was done by appellant to prosecute his appeal until September 19, 1959, when he had an order to show cause signed bringing on a motion before this Court to enlarge his time to perfect and argue his appeal."

Say Date Not Observed

The Court granted that motion on October 1, 1959, upon the condition "that his record and brief be served and filed by October 20, 1959. This date was not observed by the appellant. It was not until Wednesday, October 28, 1959, that he served upon the Attorney General the first installment of his brief comprising 51 pages. In the afternoon of Friday, October 30, 1959, he served his second and last installment — an additional 32 pages, a total of 83 pages. Furthermore, the record as served by the appellant was not complete and was not agreed upon by both sides until November 4, 1959. The brief sets forth no less than 21 assignments of error, at least one of which, now argued at great length, was never before urged.

Tompkins affidavit states, "Tompkins alleges that as trial counsel he is 'most familiar' with the record and that he intends to argue the appeal. His affidavit states that he has an engagement at 10 a. m. November 16, to 'take depositions in Pittsburgh in connection with a civil matter now pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York in which your deponent is trial counsel.'"

He alleges this matter will take three or four days to complete and that it will be "physically impossible" to have the People's brief ready prior to the end of next week, and he asks for a postponement. It is also alleged the taking of the depositions had been fixed "for a period of several weeks before it was learned of the date when his case (Ashby) would be argued, and it has been impossible to postpone or change that date."

The persons who depositions are to be taken are Hubert Teitelbaum, U. S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, his predecessor, W. Malcolm Anderson and the executive vice president and others of Gulf Oil Corporation.

In his affidavit Egan alleges that the office of Special Prosecutor Tompkins knew of October 30, of the appeal and that sufficient time has elapsed to complete briefs. Egan refused to consent to a postponement of the appeal.

Egan further stated that the postponement is not made in good faith and that Tompkins "was personally paid $25,000 a year plus expenses to conduct a special investigation in Ulster County and that he has no right to neglect his public duty merely to take a case of some private litigation in which he was counsel."

Egan alleges it is unfair to defendant Ashby to ask him to "renew under the stigma of a criminal conviction until, at least the next February" (the next term of the Appellate Division) and that there are four other lawyers on Tompkins staff getting upward of $65,000 a year any one of which could handle the appeal.

Egan says that if the case is argued now it can be decided some time in December and charges that the delay is sought to postpone any decision until "March or April 1960" after the legislature has adjourned and he charges that a reversal of the Ashby case would be "embarrassing" to the prosecution in securing an additional appropriation from the legislature.

Haver contends that he was not served with papers in the motion for an adjournment by the prosecutor's office until 3:50 p. m. last Friday.

Since then Haver alleges he has investigated the matter of appearance of Tompkins in Pittsburgh to day and charges that the date for the examination in Pittsburgh was not made until a month after the date of the Ashby appeal date had been set.

Egan's affidavit states that a Mr. Kissam, an attorney on the Pittsburgh matter, states the taking of depositions in Pittsburgh must be completed by Tuesday afternoon, November 17 since he (Kissam) has an appointment to be in Chicago on the morning of November 18 and he will be willing to sign an agreement to an adjournment in the Gulf case if the depositions are completed by Tuesday afternoon.

Denial of the motion to postpone argument of the Ashby case Thursday of this week is asked by appellant.

City Water Inspector Dies Here This Morning

Hiram Christopher Bonesteel, for many years inspector with the Kingston City Water Department, died this morning at his home, 44 Linderman Avenue, after a long illness.

Mr. Bonesteel, known to his friends as Chris, was a member of Kingston Lodge No. 10 F & AM, Wicks Engine Company and the United Commercial Travelers.

Born in Kingston, he had resided in this city all his life and was a member of St. James Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Carolina R. Hahn; a daughter, Beverly, wife of Robert Souers of Fishkill; four grandchildren, David, Cherie Lynn, Stephanie and Bryan; two sisters, Mrs. Flora O'Hara and Cornelia, wife of Arno Richter, both of Kingston.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes at the Keyser Funeral Home, Albany and Manor Avenue, Wednesday 2 p. m. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Hunting Fatals Reach 11 Today

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—As big-game hunting got under way today in the southern half of the state, New York counted 11 deaths attributed to hunting accidents since the taking of game became legal in some sections six weeks ago.

Nine hunters were killed by firearms and two were drowned, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed.

The small-game season opened Oct. 5 in most sections of the state. The big-game season began in the Adirondacks Oct. 25.

Two hunters died in weekend accidents. Another apparently suffered a fatal heart attack.

Clifford C. Chepwin, 42, of Liverpool, seated in a tree Saturday near Lovellville, was shot to death by another hunter who said he thought he was firing at a bear.

Three bullets from the rifle of John J. Kowalski of Baldwinville struck Chepwin, the Lewis County Sheriff's Office said.

Ward Parmelee, about 35, of Mount Morris, Livingston County, was drowned Saturday when a boat capsized on Cranberry Lake in the Adirondacks. Three companions were rescued by men in the area.

Kenneth Clarke, 48, of Westerlo, was found dead Sunday in Adirondack woods about 15 miles north of Herkimer. State Police said Clarke, who had been under treatment for a heart condition, apparently died of natural causes. He had been missing about 24 hours.

Plane Wreckage

forecast. The plane was already overdue at fog-shrouded Moisant when the amended forecast came out.

The plane was about a half-hour out of the radar screen that had been tracking it. The aircraft was flying at 14,000 feet over the 450-mile overwater route from Miami.

A radar station at Dauphin Island, just south of Mobile, Ala., said it was watching the plane on its screen "when it just dropped out."

The plane carried standard escape equipment for over-water flight, including inflatable life jackets for each crewman and passenger.

The plane stopped at Tampa, Fla., after leaving Miami and picked up 10 more passengers. The crash today and the one in 1953 had some striking parallels. The planes were on the same run, the weather conditions were about the same and both carried approximately the same passenger load.

The 1953 crash resulted in a rash of law suits, one of which was settled only last week by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The high court denied a National Airlines petition for a review of an order awarding $250,000 to Mrs. Beryl Whitman Stiles, widow of one of the victims.

The Coast Guard ordered an all-out search, including a specially equipped 95-foot search and rescue vessel. Teams of doctors and full medical equipment were readied and private vessels joined the hunt.

A Japanese attempt to conquer Korea late in the 16th Century was thwarted by ironclad "turtle ships" which destroyed the Japanese fleet.

Two Fires in City

Escaped gas fumes in the Grand Union Store, 489 Albany Avenue, and a car fire at Broadway and Liberty Street resulted in two fire calls Sunday. An alarm from Box 1311 at the intersection, was sounded for the latter when spilled oil caught fire on the street. The fire, due to an overheated transmission, was in the car of John Quigley, Colonial Gardens. The gas fumes, which came from a broken compressor joint, at the store were at first thought to be smoke from a fire. Wiltwyck and Central stations and the Wicks Company answered the calls.

First coins issued by the United States mint at Denver, Colo., were in 1906.

Cattle Breeders Discuss New Law For Milk Prices

ONEONTA, N. Y. (AP) — The quality of milk varies from day to day but state law requires the consumer to pay the same price for all, says a cattle breeders' association.

The New York State Jersey Cattle Club called Saturday for legislation that would allow processors to standardize milk quality.

The breeders said present law forbids processors to make any additions or subtractions in the milk they receive.

But the cream content in milk varies from day to day, the group said. Many dealers receive milk shipments from one area one day and from another area another day, with consequent variation in quality, it added. The consumer pays the same price for all kinds.

Standardized milk, the association said, would guarantee the consumer that the amount of butterfat or cream is the same each day in the milk they buy.

Only New Jersey and Wyoming have similar laws similar to New York's, the group said.

The breeders, at their annual meeting here, elected George C. Rich of Franklin as president. Also elected were: James Fisher of Madrid, vice president, Fred Luchsing of Syracuse, vice president; Alfred Partridge of Windham, treasurer, and Mrs. Oliver Cook of East Durham, secretary.

Second Space Place Could Mean Defeat

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Second place for the United States in the space race means surrender of the universe to communism, says Dr. Werner von Braun, the nation's top missileman.

He told a group of Rochester Institute of Technology alumni at a banquet Saturday that the nation is courting disaster if it considers space conquest only a sideline issue between scientists.

"It seems to me we ought to pull in our belts... and go to work," he said, adding:

"Second place in space means surrender of the universe to international communism."

The head of the Army's missile team at Huntsville, Ala., said the U. S. still can catch up, even if the Russians put a man into space first.

"But it will further enhance Soviet prestige in the eyes of uncommitted peoples," he said.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON
THE PEOPLE SQUAWK

Kruschev is hearing loud squawks from the Russian people. They are tired of going without the comforts of life in order to build factories, submarines, and armies to conquer the world.

This is apparent from Mr. K.'s recent order to rush the production of consumer goods, — from children's bicycles, to lamp shades, to washing machines, etc.

Look at it the way Russians must look at it, particularly the older people.

Under the Czar, in 1817, 62% of all Russian production and manpower was for consumer goods — what people used in their daily living. Capital goods, such as factories, railroads, etc., took the balance — 38%.

Last year, consumer goods were only 28% of total production, less than half of what the people got under the Czar!

In the U.S.A., the ratio is about 80% for consumer goods, and 20% for capital goods.

No doubt the Russian people are proud of their Sputniks and Luniks — built by the Kremlin largely for world propaganda purposes, — but they can't eat them, wear them, or cobble their shoes with them.

The pressure for more shoes, clothes, houses, etc., has been building up year by year, and it now seems apparent that even a total dictatorship feels obliged to listen to the "voice of the people."

From the standpoint of world peace, this could be the most promising thing that has happened since Lenin, Stalin and Trotsky seized power 40 years ago.

Speed Up Search After Prisoner Is Seen Upstate

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The hunt for three escaped fugitives was stepped up here today after one of the men was seen in a restaurant.

Robert Comfort, 26, was identified by customers as the man who entered a restaurant in the northwest section of the city Sunday night.

He is one of six men who escaped from Monroe County Jail Tuesday.

Alphonso Bell, 23, the third man to be returned to custody, gave himself up Saturday night. Eddie Brooks, 27, had surrendered earlier Saturday.

Witnesses at the restaurant said two men were waiting in an automobile for the man they identified as Comfort. The other men could not be identified, police said.

Ernest Bixby, 24, the first to be returned, was captured by a patrolman Wednesday on a downtown street.

An employee said he recognized Comfort from newspaper photographs.

Comfort was awaiting sentence on a charge of first-degree assault. The other men are Robert Carnigan, 23, and Louis Smith, 24, both under indictment on burglary charges.

All six men are from the Rochester area.

20 Children Escape From Burning Home

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Fire swept a portion of the second-floor at a children's home in suburban West Seneca Sunday. Twenty youngsters escaped injury.

About 35 others were playing outside when the blaze was discovered.

Cause of the fire in the three-story, brick building was not immediately determined.

Damage was estimated at $5,000.

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP)—How much film magic goes into pictorial advertising?

Does that frothy stein of beer have real foam? Is the pretty girl actually taking a bubble bath? Are those lip-smacking cakes, juicy roasts and succulent turkeys the real thing?

The answer, say professional photographers, can depend on a lot of things—and for a lot of reasons.

Widespread interest in the topic has been an off-shoot development from the recent probe of TV quiz show methods. There is, of course, nothing unique about commercial photo methods on the airlines. Most of the techniques are as old as advertising in magazines, newspapers and catalogues, where they are standard practice.

Among the follow-up TV investigations is a check by New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan to determine if air ads are fraudulent. Congressional committee members have the subject on their agenda and the Federal Communications Commission includes ad methods on its new study of TV programming.

A visit with Manhattan photographers, photo schools and studio technicians lifts the curtain on some of the wizardry.

That frothy foam on beer could be whipped egg whites. A longer lasting head is created if warm beer is poured into a glass that has been lined with a thin coat of glycerine, melted butter or soap. Milady in the bubble bath is wearing a bra and tights beneath the thick suds. Also unseen is the man who makes the bubbles with a hose connected to an air compressor.

Did you ever wonder why those cakes with the thick icing never seem to crumble when cut? The cake has been sliced beforehand, then recoated with icing.

Those delicious roasts often have never been inside an oven. Only their ends have been seared over a studio hotplate.

Are these tricks deceitful? No, reply the photographers. Then why use them?

"It's simple," says one producer of TV film commercials. "We only wish to show the TV viewer the sponsor's product in the same light he would see it in his own home."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 16, 1959

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

In a general sense, President Eisenhower's planned December visit to nine countries in Asia, Africa and Europe seems bound to be a success.

For one thing, the President has a warm, winning personality which seldom fails to register with both the leaders and the people wherever he goes.

For another, he will be carrying the full prestige and influence of the United States into some areas that have never, or rarely, seen an American president.

The breadth and extent of this coming journey affords the host countries, and all our friends everywhere abroad, evidence that we realize the 20th century battle for freedom and well being is on a worldwide stage. They will welcome this demonstration.

In the light of all this, it would seem to be too bad that Mr. Eisenhower has not ventured forth on wide sweeps like this in the years before 1959.

Until this spring, of course, he had John Foster Dulles to lean upon. Yet, superb, tireless diplomat though he was, he could never represent the United States in his person as does any president.

It was understandable that the President should avail himself of Dulles' remarkable talents. At the same time, however, that dependence led him to keep under wraps the full weight of his own office, potentially the most powerful force for unity and strength in the free world.

Mr. Eisenhower's earlier trip to Europe this year showed what impact he, and his office, could make. We shall soon have fresh proof.

Who can guess what gains might have been made among the free nations, in understanding and collaborative effort, if the President had begun earlier to commit his prestige and power to the high diplomatic adventures he has now undertaken?

The response of the host lands to the December trip will give us and the world some measure of what might have been.

Vice President Nixon admits having "considerably less hair" than he had when his political career was launched 14 years ago. If hair is all that he loses he shouldn't complain.

Failing to get relief checks promptly, an irate couple abandoned their children at the welfare office. Maybe that was a break for the youngsters.

A-TEST QUESTIONS

The question whether the United States should resume its nuclear weapons testing program is not a simple one. Several considerations are involved, and none of these can reasonably be ignored.

Tests have been suspended for a year. This has curtailed development of nuclear weapons, especially of small tactical bombs. There are good military arguments for early resumption of tests.

There also are good arguments for continuing the voluntary suspension of testing—a suspension to which Great Britain and the Soviet Union also have agreed—as long as there seems to be any prospect at all for reaching an agreement with the Kremlin on a test ban with effective inspection and control. Although these talks have dragged on for more than a year, there is still a chance of agreement.

One danger is that the Russians may continue to drag their heels at Geneva as a means of obtaining a de facto test ban. This should not be allowed to go on indefinitely. There will have to come a time when Great Britain and the United States talk in put-up-or-shut-up terms.

That time does not yet seem to have been reached. In terms of prestige among the nations of Asia and Africa, especially, the United States will be much better off if tests are not resumed. For the time being, it seems wisest to continue the suspension of testing and work for effective inspection and control.

"THE GANG'S ALL HERE"

Plays about Presidents and politics are written with difficulty because Presidents of the United States do not hold office by Divine Right or Primogeniture or any contrivance of heredity and therefore they neither claim nor aspire to perfection. They are often too ordinary even for the modern stage. They are chosen by politicians for reasons which more times than not are unrelated to character, morals or even ability and are elected by the people as the lesser of two evils. Occasionally, a truly noble person is elected to the Presidency but by the law of averages, that seldom happens.

"The Gang's All Here" is a play about Warren Gamaliel Harding, 29th President of the United States, who was the choice of the people over James M. Cox. Both were newspapermen in Ohio; neither of them was what might be called "Presidential material." Harding, however, was more handsome than Cox although not as bright. Harding was actually photogenic like Clark Gable. He was the first President to capture the female vote.

As done in this play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, Warren Harding knew that he was a better poker player than a President, and he declined to run for that office, was pushed into the nomination by his poker-playing, bourbon-drinking cronies and suffered the moral consequences of his folly. As I have sat in such smoke-filled rooms and have witnessed the negotiations of candidates, I can say that this improbable scene could be authentic except for one defect: the smoke on the stage was not thick enough. However, for some reason the authors fictionalized a fragment of history which was actually more dramatic than they tell it.

The play is about the disreputable Ohio Gang which infested the White House and robbed the country like a minor Capone outfit, but there were others in the Harding Administration who were of unquestioned fitness for public service: the Secretary of State, Charles Evans Hughes; the Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon; Will Hays was for a time Postmaster General; Henry C. Wallace, father of the more recently well-known Vice President, was Secretary of Agriculture; and Herbert Hoover was Secretary of Commerce. It was, on the whole, a very strong Cabinet. Hughes was one of our greatest Secretaries of State.

As Melvyn Douglas plays the role of Harding (unnecessarily called Griffith P. Hastings in the thinly disguised play), he starts as an altogether unlovable character and ends in the heroic tradition of the ancient Greeks. For him in the first act there is no sympathy; in the last few moments of the play, it is impossible not to shed a tear for him. For 15 minutes or so, Harding achieved towering nobility of spirit, which is more than the lot of most men. He did not die driven crazy.

Melvyn Douglas, in "The Gang's All Here" is no longer the debonair philanderer, seducing and seduced; he reaches majestic qualities as an actor. Although the play is about tawdry personalities, Douglas portrays Harding as a simple, even a stupid, vain, hag-ridden man who seeks refuge in poker, bourbon, and frowzy gals but who, when he realizes the tragedy for his country of having one like himself in the Presidency, becomes a man for all that. He kills himself and dies a gentleman. This is in the play; actually Harding died of a heart failure.

And though as I write these words, it all sounds melodramatic, it is near cheap, never without a proper overtone of character. I had feared that the play would be a campaign document; it is truly a delightful piece of theatre and a relief from the wearisome wisecrack plays which have been the vogue in recent years.

The theatre always mirrors its age. Writing about Harding in 1959, when the memory of man has permitted the Jazz Age to grow dim and when Al Capone is only a character in a movie, it is difficult to make it plausible that such a one as Harding could be chosen President.

How little the American people really know about their Presidents and Presidential candidates. As one looks at the galaxy that is presenting itself for 1960, it is only possible to hope that most of them will sink into the oblivion whence they emerged for a short spell and that the country will thus be saved. The most suitable men, some who might even be elected if presented to the voters, could not be considered in the smoke-filled rooms where such decisions are made by men who should never have been chosen to make them. ★ The Doctor Says ★

One Thing You're Not Is a Statistical Average

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

To find out more about factors that tend to shorten life expectancy, life insurance companies ordered a survey committee of the Society of Actuaries to examine the records of some five million of their policy holders.

At a cost of 25 million dollars, some 35 tons of punched cards were fed into Univac, and electric computers were used to relate the age at death with factors such as height, weight and blood pressures.

In a report that runs to 268 pages with 150 statistical charts, the committee came up with one obvious fact, and its chairman with one rather risky suggestion.

The obvious fact is that over-weight persons with high blood pressures have a shorter life expectancy than those persons whose weights and blood pressures are within average limits.

The risky suggestion is that doctors "look more carefully at the whole blood pressure problem and decide to lower pressures by systematic use of available drugs."

Here are some of the reasons that make it risky to base medical treatment, especially with powerful drugs, on mass statistics:

● The two blood pressure readings, taken by insurance examiners for use in the actuarial study, may have been misleadingly high. Medical authorities recognize that "there seem to be two levels of blood pressure which many patients will exhibit. One is the level they exhibit in their workday lives. The other, which is considerably higher, they reserve for their visits to the doctor's office."

● An individual's weight and pressure may be above the statistical average but normal for the particular person. What is underweight for a Jackie Gleason might be overweight for a Fred Astaire.

Now, if there were no danger in the systematic use of available drugs that reduce blood pressure, there'd be no great harm prescribing them for everyone whose office reading was above the statistical average. But authorities warn that none is "without its potential dangers," and caution against making "the patient more miserable by administration of potent hypotensive drugs."

Indeed, a Council report to the American Medical Association states that "individual susceptibility is so great that as little as one milligram (1/4,000 the weight of a lump of sugar) may mean the difference between tolerable and intolerable effects."

The chairman of the Actuarial Committee concludes that his clients "have been wise in setting higher rates for the overweight." Amen to that, say physicians.

But higher rates and systematic use of anti-tensive drugs for everyone whose office pressure readings are above average, that's something else again.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—What has been happening in the TV industry—as revealed by the now-recessed Harris committee washing of dirty linen—is what happened in the newspaper and moving picture businesses while they were growing up.

Some critics maintain that the press and movies haven't grown up yet. Witness the press "mob scene" coverage of the Khrushchev visit to the Garst farm in Iowa, and Hollywood's "can-can" cultural display for the Russian visitors.

But older inhabitants will testify that the press and movies are now far more responsible and respectable media of mass communication than they used to be.

A kept press, yellow journalism, advertising kickbacks and circulation wars fought with hired gangsters are not the accepted practices they were in the last century.

A few papers and writers still go strong for sensationalism and uninhibited use of the unchecked fact. When they get hold of a good, juicy, sex murder or collared scandal story, they usually give it the full treatment.

BUT THE ALL-OUT SCANDAL SHEETS that flourished even as late as the 1920s and 30s have largely disappeared. Those that haven't gone are going.

The reason is that the racketeers and shysters have been driven out of the newspaper business. They failed at it. And to its credit, the American press has cleaned house without benefit of any code authorities, acts of Congress, state, or federal regulatory agencies.

The cleanup in the moving picture industry—still going on—has followed a different pattern. A large part of the bad name the movies got came from the personal conduct of show people who thought their private lives were beyond judgment by normal standards of decency.

The corruption of Charles Van Doren and his ilk by TV quiz show promoters is pale stuff compared to the Fatty Arbuckle scandals of a few decades back. But they, plus the low-level trash put on film by Hollywood's get-rich-quick producers, led to the 1922 appointment of the late Will H. Hays as movie czar to clean up the industry.

Even this didn't work too well. A new moving picture production code adopted in 1930 failed to prevent what became known as the Mae West era. What happened was that studio production committees, supposed to clear film stories and scripts, indulged in back-scratching. "You vote for my suggestive picture and I'll vote for yours."

So, in 1934, an independent Production Code Administration had to be set up by the Motion Picture Association of America, the trade organization over which an outsider, Eric Johnston, now president as czar—a title he doesn't use.

Geoffrey M. Sherlock is director of the Production Code Administration. Its certificate of approval is required before any film goes into production. It keeps the movies reasonably respectable, though changing public morality standards tend to let too many Brigitte Bardot-type films get to the screen.

From a moral standpoint, radio and TV producers have tried to avoid Hollywood's worst mistakes and keep the air shows clean enough for home consumption.

WHERE THEY STUBBED THEIR TOES was in surrendering part of their responsibility to the same types of promoters, hucksters, and showmen who gave the publishing and moving picture business their ill repute in their earlier days.

Whether Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) and his legislative oversight subcommittee can draft a law which will prevent this, when they resume hearings in December, remains to be seen.

But the experience of the newspaper and moving picture industries indicates that the newer art forms and media of communication must first mature enough to drive the undesirable elements out of their own studios.

So far, the National Association of Broadcasters and the TV Information Bureau have not been able to even make a start at this self-policing.

What Top Party Politicians Think Is Ideal Ticket in '60

WASHINGTON—What would be the ideal ticket for each of the two major parties in the 1960 campaign as it would be set up if the "practical politicians" really had their say? Here it is:

1. Richard M. Nixon for President and Nelson A. Rockefeller for Vice-President on the Republican ticket.

2. Adlai Stevenson for President and John F. Kennedy for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket.

The phrase "practical politicians" means the men and women of experience in the two major parties who pick most of the delegates to a convention and want to see on the ticket a combination of popular personalities with a strong following in various parts of the country. They look also for potential vote-getting power on particular issues of national and international importance likely to be debated in the campaign.

Queries on Tickets
Certain queries naturally arise when the names are grouped as above on the two tickets.
First, there is to be expected at once the comments, "Of course, Rockefeller wouldn't take second place," or "Kennedy doesn't want the Vice-Presidency."

Obviously, while there is still a chance to be in the first spot, no prospective candidate for the Presidency is willing to say now publicly that he would take second place. So this kind of question at present is academic. It becomes real only when each party has actually made its first choice, and any chance of winning the Presidential nomination for somebody else is gone. At that moment the question becomes concrete. It might be put to a wavering personality in this form: "Would you turn down the Vice-Presidency when you are only a heartbeat away from the Presidency if your own Presidential candidate should win the election?"

Sen. Kennedy was willing to take second place on the Democratic ticket in 1956 and came within a few votes of winning the Vice-Presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's Opportunities
Gov. Rockefeller is a young man who is relatively new in politics. By becoming the Vice-Presidential candidate, he would get a chance to campaign the country and win friends for a 1964 Presidential nomination if the Republicans lose in 1960. Likewise, if the Republicans win in 1960, he would be catapulted into the Vice-Presidency of the United States—a position of major influence not only in domestic but in foreign policy. Only a little more than a year ago, he was not a political figure at all and was given only an outside chance of winning the Governorship of New York.

On the Democratic side, the religious issue which has been construed as a handicap by some observers can be turned into an advantage. For the objectors would be few toward a Vice-Presidential candidate of any religion whereas some of those who vote for a man because of his religion would be attracted to the ticket when someone of their own religious persuasion is named on it.

There's the comment to be heard that "Stevenson can't win—he has been beaten twice," and that "Nixon can't win." Practical politicians are not influenced too much by these objections. They rationalize the race next year as something different. After all, Stevenson was running against Ike in both his tries, and last time got the biggest Democratic vote in history. As for Nixon, he has been twice elected Vice President, and the polls today show him out in front of any Democrat.

Certainly if the combination suggested is named by each party, there will be no issue of "man versus poor man." For each of the two suggested Vice-Presidential nominees, Rockefeller and Kennedy, are inheritors of wealth. As for Stevenson and Nixon, they can each display—for the cameras—shoes with holes in them.

Already one can hear the orators at the conventions pridingly saying of the four men, respectively, that they come from "The great state of California" and "the great state of New York" and from "the great state of Illinois" and "the great state of Massachusetts."

But, strangely enough, not one of the four is as yet an avowed candidate for anything—except maybe the headlines. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
The New York Times said "the personal tragedy of this young man," Charles Van Doren, "who comes from one of the most distinguished families in American letters."

This is a clear expression of a methodical hoax which has been doping the honor and the sensibility of the American people with false standards and immoral assumptions.

It is, to be sure, a "personal tragedy" to a nasty little professional liar to be cornered and forced to confess his inexcusable indecency with his degrading effect on the character of millions of youth. But his family is not "distinguished" in American letters except by the gratuitous, unprovable degree of an unidentified editorial writer who may not believe what he wrote.

Moreover, the Times was absolutely unconcerned when many patriots of this era who were set upon and, in a manner of speaking, kicked to death for fighting "communism." These victims were not liars. They were not mercenary fakers. They were martyrs.

I have in mind at the moment Ray Van Fossen, a brave young combat veteran of the air force who was drummed out and robbed of his pension rights and other honorable but little emoluments because he took information from the files of one department of the government and gave it to another department. Van Fossen was an investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The committee wanted the history of a Trotsky Red who had been the first chief of the American Communist party, known as Jay Lovestone. Van Fossen simply went to the files of the air force, copied the stuff and gave it to his superiors in the government service a few blocks away.

For this Van Fossen was ruined in a "personal tragedy" much more poignant than Van Doren's on all counts. His wife was desperately ill, but they were so hard up that she was having to eat a beaty.

Lovestone was then, as he remains to this day, the covert secretary-of-state of Dave Dubinsky's overseas political machine. Our official State Department embassies the world over were becoming infested with Communist plants in the guise of labor attachés. There were many official reports to this effect and J. Edgar Hoover, for the FBI, had sustained these "advices. Lovestone had amassed a frightful record of hostility to the government and people of the United States and he ignored invitations to declare his apostasy in writing.

Soon after President Eisenhower took office, he appointed Spencer Miller, an implacable Red-baiter, to be of assistant secretary of state with jurisdiction over these attaches. Some

Police Disarm Berserk Mother

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A pretty 18-year-old mother who apparently went berserk and held police at bay with a rifle for about an hour was under observation today in a hospital.

Police wrestled the rifle from Mrs. Carol Godfrey Saturday and tied her to a stretcher.

One of the policemen she held off in her apartment was Chief John P. Tuffey.

Police told this story: Miss Lynette Godfrey, 18, Carol's sister-in-law, arrived at the Godfrey apartment and found dishes broken, the oven gas jets on and Carol holding a .22-caliber rifle.

Miss Godfrey summoned police. Two patrolmen went into the apartment but the girl, half reclining on a bed, held them off with the weapon.

When Tuffey arrived a few minutes later, a detective introduced him to the woman.

"So you're Tuffey," she said and pointed the rifle at him.

At that moment, other policemen grabbed the gun.

Mrs. Godfrey, and her husband, Edward, a 21-year-old Albany fireman, have a two-month-old daughter, who has been with the woman's parents.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Gathen of Gallupville, said their daughter had called them Friday and said she had fought with her husband.

Diplomat to Aid Victim's Family After Fatality

COURTLAND, Va. (AP)—From the pulpit of a small Negro country church, an Irish diplomat has expressed deep sorrow for the death of a maid hit by his son's automobile.

John J. Hearne, Irish ambassador to the United States, told an overflow congregation of more than 500 at Zion A.M.E. church Sunday his government "will do everything in its power" to help the family of Jossie Hamlin, 36. She was struck down on a Washington street last week by an auto driven by Hearne's son, David, 21.

The young man, who claimed diplomatic immunity, said he hit Mrs. Hamlin, a widow, while trying to avoid another pedestrian.

Ambassador Hearne was invited to the pulpit by the Rev. M. D. Nathan, who assured him that "our people do not have any ill will. It was just an accident—something that couldn't be helped."

Hearne and his son were the first to pass the casket. They left the church by limousine as pallbearers moved the casket to the graveside, 200 feet from the church.

William S. Thompson, attorney for Mrs. Hamlin's family, said he held two conversations with the ambassador before the funeral. It was indicated that a financial settlement will be made, the attorney added.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ETHICS OF ADVERTISING

What it means to you
The Advertiser

How it protects you
The Reader

Classified Advertising, as it is known today, is the oldest form of advertising. Its origin being traced back more than 250 years to the early days of newspapers. A time when all other accepted forms of advertising had not yet been devised by man.

Classified Advertising is the only advertising media of the great masses of the public. The place where the people, who make up any community, can for a low cost, make known to thousands their wishes, desires, wants and needs. Because Classified Advertising is the media where people place their OWN advertising . . . it is the media they just naturally turn to when they have a want or need.

Business men, having recognized that Classified Advertising is one of the most powerful of all "Public Announcement" media, also utilize the people's advertising market place to offer for sale their merchandise and services in an effort to assist you, the reader and user of classified, in solving your wants, needs and desires.

Because classified advertising is your advertising media, The Kingston Daily Freeman has established many rules of ethics in advertising governing the placing of advertising. These rules are for the protection of the reader and advertiser alike. They assure the reader of a clean cut, clear and honest presentation of the items advertised. These same rules protect the business concerns against unfair, misleading advertising of the unscrupulous . . . thereby maintaining readership at the highest possible level.

Readership of advertising . . . means results for all. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of the best edited, best checked advertising media in America. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of world leaders in maintaining clean advertising columns.

You, as a reader; and you, as an advertiser, are invited to assist us in maintaining advertising results at the highest possible level by discussing any and all advertising that has not given you an accurate picture of the product or service advertised.

Investor Forum

INITIATING INVESTORS

Every year thousands of persons are initiated into the security world. This is serious business. When hard-earned savings are placed in stocks and bonds by inexperienced investors, it is highly desirable that they get off on the right foot.

1959 is a difficult year for initiates. Stock prices are high. The steel strike is unsettling. The political atmosphere in many sections of the world is not conducive to investor confidence. Money is expensive. Temporarily, several basic industries are under clouds.

Those who guide new investors in their operations and are diligent and unselfish in their recommendations are in somewhat of a quandary today. For when a new stockbroker buys a sound equity which soon after falls in price, he may become disillusioned to the point of questioning the integrity or judgment of his adviser.

I think it is a time for competent counselors to go slow in suggesting to new investors that they buy high-grade, high-priced low-yield common stocks. What can an adviser recommend to his clients?

As I have been writing for some weeks now, the bond market, with its low prices and relatively high yields, is where one can operate. And there is where advisers who jealously guard their competence should now be working.

Here, for example, is a thrifty, hard-working professional man who has never owned a share of stock. He is up to the legal limit in several savings banks. He reads that a big issue of U. S. Government 5 per cent bonds was oversubscribed 5½ times. This very situation whets his appetite. The thought of getting about 1½ per cent more a year on his savings exhilarates him.

His mind is not at all acclimated to the risks inherent in common stocks. If he were to buy a sound equity for $100 a share only to see the price tumble to $90 and to $80 and maybe lower, he would never forgive himself for having bought it.

There are millions of inexperienced investors in America like him. Consequently, today, those who serve such potential investors had better go slow with their recommendations.

Right here is where U. S. Government bonds come on the scene. To the most experienced investor in this country a competent adviser can truthfully say:

"The bonds of the United States Government can be bought at most interesting discounts and if held to maturity, you are sure to realize a profit and in the meantime good interest will be paid."

To every investment adviser in America who thinks more of the financial well-being of his client than he does of his own well-being, today the obligations of the greatest and strongest government in the world are most attractive securities for those investors being initiated into the security world.

THE FORUM

Here are U. S. bond issues I would buy for new investors:

1. The 3 per cent bonds due in 1964 selling for 95 cents on the dollar.
2. The 3 per cent bonds due in 1966 selling for 93 cents on the dollar.
3. The 4 per cent bonds due in 1969 selling for 97 cents on the dollar.

At maturity all will be paid off at 100 cents on the dollar.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — There will be a caucus for qualified voters of the Clintondale Fire District at the firehouse Saturday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. to nominate a candidate for the board of fire commissioners. The five year term of Siah Roosa is expiring and he has declined to serve again. Tuesday, Dec. 8, the election will take place also at the firehouse with the balloting from 7 until 9 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulford Hurd celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Wednesday with a dessert party at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd were born in Clintondale and were married here Nov. 11, 1909 by the latter's brother-in-law the Rev. Caleb Hodges. Mrs. Hurd was the former Miss Helen Cornell. The couple has two sons, Jerome Russell and Melvin Hurd, both of Clintondale, and three grandchildren, Phillip, Susan and Holly Hurd. A fruit farmer for many years Mr. Hurd is associated with the firm of M. G. Hurd and Sons, among the largest operators of orchards in the county.

The former Thomas Shay house on the Ardonia Road has been sold.

Supervisor W. Howard Simpson attended a meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors held in Kingston Thursday night.

Several from here attended the Veterans Day ball held Saturday night at the Oddo House by Lloyd Post 193, American Legion.

Joseph Trainor, Calvert and Leslie Strongman have been spending several days in the Catskills deer hunting. They had a camp on Fir Mountain.

Betty Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Normal Rice, is a patient at Babies Hospital in New York City where she is recovering from major surgery.

Mrs. Louise Harries, a school teacher in New York City spent the weekend at her home here.

The budget for the operation of the town of Plattkill for the year of 1960 amounting to $93,455.70 was unopposed at a public meeting held last week and adopted by the board. Last years budget was $88,854.47. The new tax rate has not yet been announced.

Several parents attended the annual Lions Club football dinner at the Hotel DiPrima Monday night.

Viaduct Hearing Resumes Tuesday

An adjourned hearing before the Public Service Commission on elimination of the Washington Avenue Viaduct will be held Tuesday 10 a. m. at the court house.

A public hearing held in Kingston on Oct. 15 was suddenly adjourned by the hearing commissioner with the adjourned hearing to be held in Albany. Since many people had not been given an opportunity at that time to heard, the postponement to Albany was protested and the hearing was later shifted back to Kingston so that local persons might attend and present testimony.

Church History Is Featured By Cast in Pageant

The first of two performances of a historical pageant, "Heritage," describing the 300-year-old history of the Old Dutch Church, was presented before a capacity audience in Bethany Hall Sunday evening.

A final performance will be presented at 7:45 p. m. today in the church annex. There is no admission charge. A free will offering will be taken, however. Approximately 100 persons are in the cast of the costumed pageant directed by Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool, Harry Rigby Jr., is the narrator.

The pageant was originally written by Mrs. Charles Jones in 1952 on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the construction of the present Old Dutch Church edifice. It has been revised and brought up-to-date by Mrs. Oudemool.

The pageant opens with the founding of the congregation of the church Sept. 12, 1659.

It proceeds through 15 episodes titled as follows: We Find Our Valley, We Build a Church, We Meet the Day of Wrath, We Designate Thanksgiving Day, The Ordinances, We Are Torn With Dissent, We Join the Rebels, We Have a Part in Valley Forge, We Keep in Step With Changing Times, We Build Another Church, We Fight Again for Freedom, We Honor General Sharpe, We Send a Message to The Netherlands, The Church of Today—The Church of Tomorrow.

The pageant is part of a year-long celebration of the 300th anniversary of the church. Stuart Munson, chairman of the 300th anniversary committee, spoke briefly during intermission, describing the tercentennial program of the church.

Chamber Plans Action Course

A second Kingston group of business and professional men will break the fear barrier which frequently separates businessmen from any consideration of politics.

This group will start a nine session "Action Course in Practical Politics" at 4 p. m. Monday, Nov. 23. There are still a few openings in this group. Anyone interested in more information should call the Chamber of Commerce office.

Politics for the citizen and businessman who nurture no aspirations for public office has, unfortunately, long been looked upon with disfavor. The taboo is being broken by the general acceptance of the political action course sponsored by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The first Political Action Group will meet for its third session on Thursday, Attorney S. James Matthews is the discussion leader. They meet for breakfast at 7:30 a. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel and conclude the sessions at 4 a. m.

Clifford A. Hertz, executive vice president of the Kingston Savings Bank was elected as discussion leader of Political Action Group No. 2. The 4 p. m. meetings will be held in the directors room of the Kingston Savings Bank.

The Action Course in Practical Politics was developed by the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. and is offered to any group or organization interested in sponsoring the program. It is non-partisan in nature with all the organizational suggestions and other material equally applicable to any political party.

If demand warrants, any number of groups can be organized under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship. A minimum of 12 is required to organize a group. The maximum permitted will be 18. As soon as 10 or 12 enroll, that group meets and decides when and where they will meet. They also elect a discussion leader. There is a small fee charged for the books used in the course but they become the property of the person enrolled. The Chamber of Commerce would welcome calls for more information about this new program.

City Men Fined In Policy Case

Three men booked Saturday on charges dealing with the alleged conduct of the game of policy were sentenced today by Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig.

Among the trio was William Buckman, 46, of 59 West Chester Street, who was one of 13 held late in July on horse race bookmaking charges.

Judge Ewig today imposed a $50 fine, a suspended sentence of 60 days on Buckman, and placed him on probation for 60 days. He had paid a $200 fine last summer on the bookmaking charge.

John Durham, 57, of 12 Summer Street, and Donald Philip Jones, 24, of Box 303, East Kingston, were the other two arrested Saturday at Cornell Street and Bruyn Avenue.

Durham, who, the court noted, had no recent gambling arrest record, was sentenced to pay a $50 fine or spend 30 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Judge Ewig suspended imposition of sentence on Jones, who, it was noted, had no previous record, and placed him on probation for 90 days.

A police report at 1:23 p. m., Saturday noted that detectives Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton had called for a patrol car to Cornell Street and Bruyn Avenue. Officers Garvin Fisher and Anthony Turk were dispatched there. Slips allegedly used for the game were taken.

Attorney Richard Griggs appeared for the defendants.

Nixon Plan

Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis.:

"Khrushchev will offer you a cup of coffee, or maybe something else" (pause for laughs). "Maybe cranberry juice." (more laughter). "It just occurs to me, how would vodka go with that?" (much laughter).

Naturally there's more to this than homework. Otherwise our presidents would merely be memory experts.

Nixon seems to avoid details on many issues.

Sees Ike's Visit as Help

He thinks peace will be much talked about in 1960, and that President Eisenhower's visits abroad will give the Republicans a big advantage.

On such subjects as the farm problem, where Democrats are already firing their biggest guns, Nixon says forcibly that something must be done, and then quickly says he's not prepared at this time to say what that something is.

Probably Nixon has planned it this way. Issues can be kicked in a lot of directions before the national Republican convention in Chicago next summer.

Seems Confident

Certainly Nixon seems confident. In discussing 1960 with reporters, he said he thought the campaign train may still have its place, especially in the East. "There's something dramatic about a train," he said.

And he smiled dreamily, as if he were seeing himself waving gaily from the back of that train.

Ancient Romans prized oysters so much as a food that they imported them from Britain thinking to improve the virility of troops.

Engineers Get State Licenses

Eight Ulster County residents have been issued state licenses to practice professional engineering, and one gained a license for the practice of medicine, it was learned today.

Issued licenses as the result of tests given by the New York State Board of Examiners of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors were:

Richard Ellsworth Bradley, Wildwood Road, West Hurley; Robert Anderson Donnan, Box 432, New Paltz; Samuel Levy, 184 Henry Street, Kingston; Louis V. Ruffino, 10 Hemlock Street, Kingston; William Andrew Scully, RD 2, Highland; Walter Leonard Tuchman, 35 Miller's Lane, Kingston; Richard L. Walton, 20 Mountain View Avenue, Saugerties, and Allen H. Wegner, Box 162, Glenford.

Issued a license by the New York State Board of Medical Examiners to practice medicine was Kurken V. Erzurumlu, 250 Smith Avenue, Kingston.

The State Education Department recently released the names of 392 who passed the engineers' test and 216 who gained licenses through the latest examination given for medicine. Of the totals, 72 who took the engineers' test and 29 of the physicians were from out of the state.

New Foreign Trade Program Promote State's Products

ALBANY — The State Commerce Department today mailed out the first of 12,000 special forms to New York manufacturers and exporters in a new program designed to help sell the state's products in foreign markets.

The department is cooperating with the U. S. Department of Commerce in promoting a government service designed to put prospective foreign buyers quickly in touch with agents and licensees of U. S. products. The service will expedite the flow of trademarked products and replacement equipment to foreign countries.

Must File Cards

As a first step, manufacturers and exporters participating in the State Commerce Department foreign trade program are being asked to fill out index cards giving the names of the New York State manufacturer or export concern; products exported, including trademarks; name and address of the company's foreign representative or licensee, and the type of representation.

Space on the reverse of the card is reserved for explanatory comments which could assist in promoting interest in the sales of the product.

Completed cards are to be forwarded by New York State firms to the Commercial Intelligence Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., as part of their new agency index program. They will then be transmitted to appropriate foreign service posts, where they will be used for ready reference when requests for sources of supply of products are received.

At least one card will be required for each country where a representative or licensee is located. When a company has split representation for different products, or more than a single agent in a country, separate cards or facsimiles should be submitted.

Should Record Changes

To help keep foreign service post files up-to-date, replacement cards should be mailed to the U. S. bureau whenever changes occur or different arrangements for representation are made.

New York export manufacturers and other businessmen not on the State Commerce Department foreign trade mailing list can obtain cards for the agency index service by contacting regional offices of the State Commerce Department in Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Elmira, Kingston, Mineola, Ogdensburg, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and White Plains as well as the department branch offices in New York City and Washington, D. C.

Health for All

No Inheritance

"There's a wonderful girl I'm crazy about and we're going to be married in a couple of months. But I had TB three years ago, though I'm all right now. And two of my cousins died of it in the old country. My girl wants children and so do I. But I'm afraid they'll inherit TB from me. Maybe I ought not to get married at all."

In some ways medicine is like the law. There are many questions it's impossible to give a flat "yes" or "no" to. But fortunately this isn't one of them. We were able to tell the reservation that tuberculosis is not inherited.

But, on the other hand, anybody's children can get TB. So can any adult. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus. Anyone, of any age, who is in close frequent contact with someone who has active tuberculosis can catch it. It's been known, but it's rare, for the TB germ to pass from one person to another as a result of just one contact.

The young man told us that he had yearly chest X-rays and that he took the usual precautions against a relapse — good food, enough sleep, avoidance of fatigue and emotional stress and the like. His fiancée had been tuberculin tested and was negative. She was going to repeat the test every year and have X-rays, too, if the tuberculin test result should ever be positive. Any children would get a regular check-up of course. With plans like that, we told him, he hadn't a thing to worry about.

We congratulated him on his forthcoming marriage and wished him the very best of luck.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by Ulster County TB and Health Association, 124 Green Street.

Port Ewen P-TA To Hear Local Flower Authority

Mrs. William Anderson, well-known local authority on flower arrangements, will be guest speaker at the Port Ewen Parent-Teacher Association meeting Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

A member of the New Paltz Garden Club and winner of numerous blue ribbons for her floral pieces at the annual Ulster County Fair, Mrs. Anderson has also won the sweepstakes trophy at the West Park Flower Show for six years in a row.

For more than 10 years, Mrs. Anderson has had experience in arranging flowers, and, with the help of her family, raising a variety of annuals and perennials at their home on Broadway in Port Ewen. For the past three years she has specialized as a wedding florist, doing centerpieces, corsages and bouquets, a type of work she enjoys most of all.

"Many people are reluctant to try flower arranging because they think they need special equipment," Mrs. Anderson said during an interview. "At the meeting, I plan to demonstrate basic techniques of combining color and harmony in planned relationships, using the simplest type of containers which most people have around the house."

The program, which will start promptly at 8 p. m., will be followed by the regular business meeting, and refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

BEAT GENERATION

A lot of youngsters have never heard of the old-time "sport" of rug-beating; their elders have all but forgotten it. Not Jeremiah Closefist, however. In the course of a household economy drive last spring, Mrs. Closefist assigned Jeremiah the weekly task of beating every rug in the house. This, of course, would save the cost of electricity for the vacuum cleaner.

ACTUALLY, all this activity just raised dust without really removing dirt. And the savings didn't even amount to pin money; with a modern vacuum cleaner, electricity keeps all the rugs in a typical home immaculate for only 11 cents a month.

Rugs and carpets kept spic-and-span with so little effort, at such small cost . . . that's just one more reason why the average family is using twice as much electricity today as in 1947.

MODERN ELECTRIC SERVICE—YOUR BEST BUY IN BETTER LIVING

No Success in Past

Previous Parleys Indicate No Score for Union, Firms Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The yen for a buck and some other human considerations stand in the way of success from any labor-management conference.

President Woodrow Wilson called such a conference in 1919, after World War I. It collapsed. President Harry S. Truman called another in 1945, after World War II. The results were pathetic. Now AFL-CIO President George Meany suggests that President Eisenhower call a labor-management meeting. Eisenhower may do so.

Meany's Reasons
Meany gave these reasons for proposing it: (1) to avoid a recurrence of long, costly strikes, as in steel; (2) to improve labor-management relations, especially to cope with rising Soviet economic power; and (3) to avoid tougher laws by Congress.

Meany's most compelling reason is probably fear of action by Congress when it returns in January to protect the country from the damage of big strikes.

That action could range all the way from some harmless, duck-in-the-issue window-dressing to a ban on big strikes and compulsory arbitration. No matter what, it would mean government interference.

If Eisenhower calls a labor-management conference any time soon, it will take the edge off demands for congressional action until the results are seen, provided there are no more big strikes in the meantime.

The alternative to restraints imposed by the government is for labor and management to agree on restraints for themselves for the good of the rest of the country. That's a big gimmick.

The task of getting two powerful groups to yield any of their freedoms without compulsion is still one of the problems of political philosophy.

Test of Strength
With labor unions free to strike to back up their demands and management free to refuse the demands, a big strike becomes a test of strength at public expense.

It would be one of the 20th century's miracles if either side now, simply because of meeting in a big room, would yield freedoms voluntarily.

Basically, these are the same opposing forces which could not agree, and still have not, on how to settle the steel strike.

Behind all this, of course, are the human and free enterprise desires of workers for higher pay and management for higher profit and the compulsion on labor leaders to do more for their men and of management to do more for the stockholders.

Never Settled Before
Since higher profits, or higher prices, can cancel out higher wages, the two sides in a labor-management conference would tangle on a problem they have never solved yet and never really faced up to.

That is how to keep wages and prices within limits considered reasonable by them and the public and how to settle their disputes by a voluntary system of restraints which would make government interference unnecessary.

In Truman's 1945 conference both sides talked of voluntarily calling in a nongovernmental arbitration board to settle their disputes.

This idea went out the window fast. The best the conference did propose was that the government should strengthen its conciliation service which, without any power, is supposed to get two disagreeing sides to agree.

The conference was followed by a flood of strikes which started even while the conference was in session.

Wilson's 1919 conference—made up of representatives from labor, management and the public—was a worse mess.

That broke up when the public and management members joined in denying labor's demands for the right to organize without discrimination, a right later guaranteed under the Wagner Labor Act of 1935.

West Shore Wreck Blocks NYC Tracks

WEST NYACK, N. Y. (AP)—A 169-car New York Central freight train was derailed Sunday as it crossed a bridge over the New York Thruway near here.

Eight cars were strewn along an embankment but none landed on the Thruway.

Workmen expected to clear away the wreckage on the Central's West Shore Division sometime today.

No train delays were expected, a railroad spokesman said.

No one was injured. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

Woman Faces Charge Of Murder Upstate

BATAVIA, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Georgia Thompson, 28, of Elma, is in Genesee County Jail, charged with second-degree murder in the shooting of her husband Saturday night.

Pin Young Thompson, 33, was shot through the heart, police said, with a bullet from a .38-caliber pistol.

Mrs. Thompson told police she was struck by her husband after she complained of his being away all day.

The couple's five children were in the house when the shooting occurred.

Mrs. Thompson is being held for grand jury action.

Jersey Governor Asks Advice on Transit Problem

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Since New York is taxing New Jersey incomes, would New York be willing to help New Jersey solve its commuter transit problems?

Gov. Robert B. Meyner suggested this Sunday as one way in which New Jerseyans might get something for the dollars they are taxed in working in New York.

He conferred with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, who was here to address the state magistrate's conference.

Meyner also appeared on a television program in New York Sunday and asserted that the governors of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut should discuss New York's income tax before January.

Residents from Connecticut and New Jersey who work in New York are taxed by New York and they do not presently receive the same deductions New Yorkers get.

New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has indicated a willingness to work with New Jersey and Connecticut to resolve the problem.

Guard Official Viewed Missile Unit on Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Maj. Gen. Almerin C. O'Hara, now head of the New York National Guard, inspected Sunday missile installations the Army soon will turn over to the Guard.

O'Hara traveled by helicopter to NIKE-AJAX installations at Kensico in Westchester County and Brookville and Lido Beach, both in Nassau County.

Similar missile units at Spring Valley in Rockland County, Lloyd Harbor in Suffolk County, Niagara Falls and Buffalo also will be turned over to the National Guard during 1960.

Both full-time and part-time guardsmen will man the stations, an Army spokesman said. He said the move would free Army personnel for training in more advanced weapons.

National Guardsmen have been at NIKE-AJAX bases a year or more training for the change.

BRIDGE

Looks Easy But Bidding's Tricky

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There is no problem at all in the play of today's hand. North and South can rattle off 12 tricks at hearts, spades or no trump.

In theory it should be a cinch for duplicate players to land at the top spot of six no-trump and for rubber players to reach some slam or other.

Practice is another matter and, so far, I have given it to 20 pairs of duplicate players to bid. The bidding shown here is that of the only pair to reach six no-trump.

Most of the others got to six hearts but a couple stopped at game and three tried the heart grand slam.

Furthermore, there were almost as many series of bids as partnerships. The heart opening was standard but I ran into one and two spade and three heart responses to start with and from then on the bids scattered madly.

So, if you want some fun with this hand just try it out on your friends the same way. But if you want to keep them as friends, don't laugh at them if they get to the wrong spot. The hand is really hard to bid.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

In the days when passenger service on the West Shore was popular there were many interesting excursions from Kingston. This from the Kingston Argus of Wednesday, March 27, 1895:

"Special train of elegant day coaches and through sleeping cars will leave Kingston, at 4:45 p. m. and round trip tickets good returning from Washington, D. C., until April 19, are sold at $9.85 each. These trips, as arranged by the West Shore Railroad, are first class in every particular, and the opportunities for a pleasant and instructive vacation are inexhaustible. Washington City at this time presents an animated and dazzling appearance. The public buildings, art galleries, etc., offer more than the usual array of attractions. Mt. Vernon, Old Point Comfort, Petersburg and Richmond can be reached at greatly reduced rates and those taking advantage of the West Shore Railroad's Tour on Tuesday, April 9, will have the privilege of stopping over at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York within time limit without extra cost."

That sounds like a real nice trip. Traveling in comfort by train, no problem of parking a car or being cramped up from driving and watching the road. I always liked traveling by train when the West Shore gave us good passenger service. Remember just 20 years ago, during the World's Fair in New York. It was $2 round trip to New York. I went, but not often enough, believe me, if I had known that it would not be forever, I would have gone down every nice Sunday. Entrance to the World's Fair was only 75 cents and then the place was yours.

In 1895 they gave a report of the school commissioners of the county. A total of $52,903.34 was apportioned for the first district, second and third districts. Here is part of the report which may be interesting to read today:

The City of Kingston received by districts, for No. 1, Rodney Street, $353.26; No. 3, Chambers Street, $1,385.22; School No. 4, Lindsley Avenue, $1,074.18. For supervisors of the Kingston School district, $800. Esopus received $2,858.59. If anyone of the readers is interested in the full report, I take it for the year of 1895 they can copy it from my paper. I think at the time, the principals received around $1,000 yearly salary, perhaps less.

Following about marriage license in this 1895 paper:

"A bill has been introduced into the State Legislature compelling the procuring of license before marriage. The bill was opposed on the ground that it was useless legislation, as the law provides for the recording of marriages. It is maintained, however, that such a law would prevent elopements."

Another item from same paper:

"The regents of New York State have decided to lengthen the course of study in academics by one year, making it necessary hereafter to take a four year course to obtain a regent's diploma."

Another item: "It is said that 10,000 tons of coal are stolen annually from cars and dumps of the Erie Railroad. . . Up in Hudson they have sauerkraut surprise parties. . . By order of the Postmaster General, free delivery, by carriers, of mail matter will go into operation in this city on the first of May. . . The prejudice against wheelmen has found expression in several bills before the Legislature, to restrict speed to 10 miles per hour, and require the carrying of lamps and bells or bugles to warn pedestrians and horsemen."

Collection Thief Caught in Church

AMSTERDAM, N. Y. (AP)—Two men, hiding in the choir loft of the Good Shepherd Polish National Catholic Church between masses Sunday, pounced upon a man they said had been pilfering the collection baskets.

With the help of two other church members, they overpowered William Sacawa, 44, and tied him to a chair. Police said Sacawa had $14 of collection money in his pockets.

He was charged with petty larceny and committed to the Montgomery County Jail to await arraignment.

The Rev. Edmund Gruse, pastor of the church, said money had been disappearing from the collections for the past three years. About $500 was taken this year, he said.

Pickets on Patrol Outside Union Dance

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—While union bricklayers danced and dined inside, four union pickets walked outside.

That was the scene Saturday night at Germania Hall.

"It's a non-union place," said a spokesman for the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union, which did the picketing.

The bricklayers said the restaurant workers had not given advance notice of their objection.

A bricklayer said the picketing didn't seem to have cut attendance.

PHOENICIA NEWS

Road Hearing Held

PHOENICIA—Thursday, Nov. 12, a meeting was held in the firehouse pertaining to the location of the reconstruction of Route 28 from Woodland Valley Inn through Mt. Tremper and Boiceville. The engineers engaged by the special Citizens Committee presented their plans and recommendations to the State Engineers who were present. Dr. Sam Porter will give a report of the meeting of the Rotary Club in the evening.

Village Social Notes

The spaghetti supper for the benefit of St. Francis de Sales parish last Saturday in the parish hall was a huge success. One hundred and ninety were served and a goodly sum was realized.

Miss Frances Swart of Doranville was a weekend guest of Mrs. Dow MacBain.

Mrs. William Wrixon Sr. of Woodland spent the weekend in Brooklyn visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eleazer Tucker, her brother-in-law and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of New Rochelle visited her mother Mrs. Ada Tyler over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reilly have left for their apartment in Bradenton, Fla. for the winter.

Saturday, Dec. 5, the Thimble Club will have their annual tea and bazaar in the church hall in the early afternoon. Fancy and useful articles and cookies will be on sale. A special feature will be the "Sniffle Tree."

The Town of Shandaken Nursing Committee will have its annual dinner and Christmas party in the Olivera Firehouse Wednesday, Dec. 2, at 12 noon. Members may bring a guest. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Louise Bedell, Big Indian, before Nov. 18.

Mrs. Ralph Bush was hostess at a shower for Miss Emily Smith at her home in Chichester, Monday evening. Decorations were green and white. About 85 guests assembled to uprise the honored guest who will be married in January.

The Phoenicia Discovery Class will meet next Sunday evening at 8 p. m. in the Methodist Church. This is for those who anticipate becoming members to acquaint them with the express meaning of church membership and their obligations and responsibilities.

Captain and Mrs. Joseph Gorham of Highland Falls were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Smith Sunday.

Mrs. Grace Stewart spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stewart in West Hurley.

The Tabooed Cliche

By FRANK TRIPP

If you would be at peace with swarming critics never write a newspaper column. Or should you stoop to that depth, beware the intelligentsia—and never call Shakespeare a "ham."

Although it is easy to prove, you must first produce a lexicon that shows the derivation of oft used words and phrases and their modern distortion—or you're sunk.

Right now I'm under bombardment anent a recent effusion wherein by quotation or inference Shakespeare, Mark Twain, Sir William Gilbert, Damon Runyon, George Ade, Ernie Pyle and other literary immortals were rated as "hams"; with Shakespeare the inventor of the cliche.

Rejecting the truth that "ham" in its first colloquial slang meaning did not infer inferiority or slapstick antics of actor or writer, I am accused of all manner of ignorance and disrespect for my peers.

I DIDN'T MENTION Will Rogers, the ham of all modern hams, who never wrote a line that the most humble man could not understand and enjoy. A genius whose stabilizing one-sentence humor the world so sorely needs. He made the nation laugh at incidents that grow in to crises today. He was a confessed ham, who wrote to, and performed for the common man. Who on the list did not? The works of all of them live in the hearts of the people, and will so long as man reads. While the ponderous thoughts of learned pundits enlighten the relatively few and are forgotten.

SO SHAKESPEARE didn't belong there, never played to the gallery of ordinary folks, either as a ham actor at London's old Globe Theatre or as author of his comedies and tragedies?

How come then that after three and a half centuries, next to the Bible, his are the most quoted writings of all time? Millions barely could converse without him. His words are the proud spots of little people's vocabularies, plenty of whom never read a line of him, and think they are quoting slang.

He had to be writing to them—"hamming" in its first accepted sense—or it could not have happened.

EXAMPLES OF THE great bard's strife to be brief and understood appear through all his work; meaningful "cliches" that today come out as whole paragraphs of clumsy elaboration.

A few of hundreds you will recognize, and to be "learned" you must avoid. Give the devil his due. Beggars description. Seen better days. Crack of dawn. Cold comfort. Fancy free. It was Greek to me. Neither here nor there. So-so. Thereby hangs a tale. Kill with kindness. Wring your heart. At one fell swoop. Laughing stock. Seen better days.

THEN there are: "I have you on the hip" (Merchant of Venice); "Lily-livered" (King Lear); "In a pickle" (Tempest); "Wild goose chase" (Romeo and Juliet); "New-fangled" (Love's Labor Lost); "Rotten times" (II Henry IV).

And—hold onto your chair—"Like a drunken sailor" (Richard III); "Let me tell the world" (I Henry IV); and "Good Night!" (I Henry IV). Which, dear critic, doth prompt me to proclaim: If Shakespeare could afford to write like a drunken sailor, let me tell the world that I can.—Good night!

List Safe Driving Rules for Winter

ALBANY — As first general snowfalls of the season hit New York State, Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hufts today stated six tested rules for safe winter driving.

Citing five chief hazards of winter operation as inadequate traction, reduced ability to stop, reduced visibility, ice and snow made slippery by traffic, and effect of temperature on starting and stopping, Hufts urged New York's seven million drivers to follow these basic tips:

1—Winterize your car, winterize your driving techniques—and winterize your determination to avoid accidents.

2—Have good tires, preferably snow tires, and use tire chains for more severe conditions. Worn tires or worn chains are not as effective. Even with snow tires or tire chains, slower than normal speeds are a must on snow and ice.

3—Be sure wiper blades, heater and defroster are working properly. Clean snow and ice from your windshield and from all windows of your car. Ventilate to keep the inside of your windows from fogging.

4—In order to avoid unintentional sliding or spinning of your wheels, occasionally try your brakes or gently press your accelerator while driving slowly and as traffic and highway conditions permit. Then adjust speed to road and weather conditions.

5—Keep well back of the vehicle ahead so that you will have plenty of room to stop. It takes from three to 12 times more distance to stop on snow and ice than it does on dry pavement.

6—Pump your brakes to maintain best steering control when braking on ice or slippery snow. "Pumping" is a fast application and release of the brakes one, two or more times per second. This gives short intervals of maximum braking separated by short intervals of effective steering while wheels are rolling.

Commissioner Hufts said, national safety organizations had adopted the six rules after studies of winter driving experience over several years, including winter accident records.

Kingston Hadassah Is Honored for Membership Total

The Kingston Chapter of Hadassah was honored for membership achievement Thursday, Nov. 12.

Representatives of the local board were guests at a reception at Gracie Mansion, home of Mayor and Mrs. Robert Wagner of New York City. Two hundred board members from 22 chapters from the metropolitan area attended and received citations for their groups.

Attending from the Kingston chapter were Mrs. Louis M. Ellenbogen, Mrs. Oscar B. London and Mrs. George B. Starkman. Mrs. Jay Melton is president of the local group, while Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is membership chairman.

The boards honored were cited as "key boards," with each member enrolling at least one new member during this fall's membership campaign for the women's Zionist organization. The Kingston chapter enrolled 36 new members.

Mrs. Wagner served as hostess for Thursday's reception, while Dr. Miriam Freund, national Hadassah president, spoke and presented citations. In charge of the event were Mrs. D. Leonard Cohen, national membership chairman, and Mrs. Saul Katz, chairman of the "Hadassah Month" campaign.

Other key boards in the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah honored were Newburgh and Middletown chapters.

The Kingston chapter is currently engaged in its annual campaign for Youth Aliyah, rescue and rehabilitation movement. All contributors to the drive will be guests at a gala reception set for 8:30 Monday, Nov. 23, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, with Lou Goldstein, Grossingers' comedian, as star. Donations may be sent to Mrs. Harry Feldman, 104 Wall St.

Mrs. Morton A. Cohen was chairman of the solicitations drive held Tuesday. Workers included the Mmes Morris Berman, Milton Dubin, Louis Ellenbogen, Arthur Field, Leo Holtz, Joseph Honig, Nathaniel B. Gross, Martin E. Kantor, Herbert Kleiske, David Kline, Arthur H. London, Oscar B. London, Ethel Meyer, Paul Mezer, Alex Parnett, Harold Pinkus, Jerome Strugatz, Barnett Sussan, Charles Warsaw, Irving Wilpan, Sidney Wolff, Robert S. Yallum and Miss Sadie Feldman. Mrs. Melvin Navy is Youth Aliyah chairman, with Mrs. Sam Kenik in charge of the Nov. 23 reception.

Personals

George Sherman celebrated his 86th birthday on November 5 with a party at his home, in Kingston. Among those attending were Mrs. George Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hines, Mrs. Anna Noble, Mrs. E. Hyman, Mrs. C. Enright and Mrs. Mary Albright.

LEGION AUXILIARY DONATES TO LOAN CLOSET

Mrs. Laura Burns, center, president of the Rosendale-Tillson Unit 1219, American Legion Auxiliary, presents a walker to the Rosendale Loan Closet sponsored by the Woman's Club of Rosendale. Mrs. Thomas Burns, left, is chairman of the Loan Closet, and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, right, is president of the sponsoring organization. The project is operated on a non-charge basis for any one in the area needing hospital supplies for a short period of time. Located in the Rosendale Grange Hall, supplies available include wheelchairs, hospital beds, crutches, canes and like items. Those wishing to borrow articles may contact Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Stephen Reposky or Mrs. Benjamin Barbato, all of Rosendale. The Legion Auxiliary has previously donated a wheel chair. (Freeman photo).

A PROPER CHAPERON

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently a married couple friends of mine had a house party and asked the girl friend of her husband's brother (who lives with my friends' family) to spend the night at their house in order to save him from having to make the long trip to her house late at night to take her home. The girl's mother objected to her daughter spending the night there; her reason being that it wasn't the proper thing to do. The girl obeyed her mother's wishes and did not stay. I agreed with this girl's mother as I did not think it was proper either, but my friend feels that it was an insult to her inasmuch as it insinuated that the mother did not think her a fit chaperon for her daughter. This has caused some feeling between the sister-in-law and the girl's family. Wasn't the mother right in not allowing her daughter to spend the night at her boy friend's house?

Answer: The girl having been invited by a respectable married woman could have spent the night at her house with perfect propriety.

Second Helpings

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in someone's house, is it considered bad manners to accept a second helping of food? I say "No" because it shows one likes the hostess' food and it is a compliment. My mother, however, insists it is wrong and is making a glut of oneself. What is your opinion?

Answer: You are quite right. While you should not ask to be served a second helping, if one is proffered to you, you most certainly may accept it.

An Invitation with No R.S.V.P.

Dear Mrs. Post: Does an invitation reading "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, At Home, Saturday, the 5th of December, 5 to 7 o'clock," require a written acceptance? Even if no answer is requested, would a written reply be more courteous nonetheless?

Answer: No answer is required, and to send one would not help the hosts in estimating how many guests to prepare for because so very few others will answer.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her booklet No. 502 "Etiquette of Letter Writing," send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

THE SINGING BRAKEMAN
At Meridian, Mississippi, is a monument to a singing brakeman, Jimmie Rodgers. Known as America's blue yodeller, Jimmie Rodgers died a quarter-century ago. The memorial, which was dedicated in 1953 by his fans and the folk artists of America, reads in part: "His is the music of America. He sang the songs of the people he loved, of a young nation growing strong. His was an American of glistening rails."

UN Official Names
Delegates to Laos

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, risking another Soviet protest, will leave a Finnish U.N. official in rebel-ridden Laos as his personal representative.

Hammarskjöld, now visiting the Indochinese kingdom, called Premier Sakari Tuomioja of Finland to join him and to remain up to four weeks in Laos after the secretary-general leaves next weekend to return to U.N. headquarters.

Officially, Tuomioja is to study the economic situation of Laos and the little country's needs in U.N. aid. But the Laotian government hopes his presence will serve as a restraining influence on Communist rebels.

Before Hammarskjöld left New York, the Soviet delegation wrote him that his visit to Laos and "the proposed stationing of a personal representative" there could only complicate the situation and "entail dangerous consequences for peace."

Hayden Returns
To Face Charge

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP) — Bronzed Sterling Hayden is back from the South Seas, tired and broke but ready to face a contempt of court action for taking his four children out of the country against the order of a Los Angeles judge.

The Hollywood actor sailed his schooner Wanderer into San Francisco Bay Sunday after 10 months on the high seas and in Tahiti. He told newsmen he went "in search of truth" and came back to "clear up the legal situation" in Los Angeles.

Hayden won custody of the children in a divorce action but his former wife, Betty Ann de Noon Hayden, was allowed visitation rights. When he sailed from here last January Mrs. Hayden got a court order for his arrest alleging the children were in danger. The contempt action followed. Several additional charges filed in Marin County are in abeyance.

Leaving on the rail of the 66-year-old schooner, the 43-year-old actor told newsmen he had just had "the best year of my life."

Report 30 Executions

Taipei, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China's official Central News Agency reported today that Communist troops executed more than 30 persons in Fukien province in September after mobs burned down more than 70 food storehouses. The agency said the mobs were protesting a cut in food rations. It said that more than 500 other persons were arrested.

Northern Ireland's leading industry is agriculture—no doubt about it. Within 5,459 square miles of land there are some 90,000 small, neatly spaced farms.

AMERICAN MENU

Caviar Adds a Touch of Luxury to Thanksgiving

BY GAYNOR MADDOX.
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Of course, the former Roman-off rulers of Russia were not interested in our traditional Thanksgiving celebration. But they did develop a few tricks with caviar that we might use to give an extra fillip to our old-fashioned feast.

Either of these two appetizers will start dinner with elegance:

Caviar Rainbows

Remove crusts from thin slices of white bread or pumpernickel, spread with cream cheese and cut into small squares. Cover cream cheese with thin slice of Nova Scotia smoked salmon. Combine equal parts of whole grain or pressed caviar with finely chopped ripe olives and spread caviar mixture over smoked salmon. Top with sour cream and garnish with chopped chives and sliver of pimento.

Caviar Royal Tempters

Cut hard-cooked eggs lengthwise, remove yolks and blend with French dressing to moisten. Season pressed or whole grain caviar with minced fresh chives and lemon juice. Fill egg halves $\frac{1}{4}$ full with caviar, top with blended egg yolks and garnish with slivered pimento and capers. Many families serve one of our United States wines with their turkey. It can be red or white, depending on your own preference, but select a dry rather than a sweet one.

Of course, cider belongs in the Thanksgiving picture, too. Our gourmet friend, James A. Beard, tells us he likes a combination of old-fashioned American cider and French cognac. You may want to try it. Here's his recipe:

Cognac Cider Punch

Combine in a large punch bowl one fifth of French cognac,

Gullian will show films of the Hudson-Champlain celebration after the meeting.

Thursday 8 p. m. the annual card party of the American Legion Post 1298 will be held at the town auditorium. The affair is one of the main events sponsored by the legion each year.

The Thimble Club will meet Thursday at St. Leo's Hall at 10 a. m. They are also sponsoring a bus trip to New York City Dec. 12. Reservations may be made with any member by Nov. 20. The club will hold a rummage sale at the town auditorium Saturday Nov. 21 from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Articles may be left with any member or at the auditorium Friday night.

The Men's Candelin Bowling League will bowl Wednesday with teams 2 and 4 at 7 p. m. and teams 1 and 3 at 8:30 p. m. at the Reformed Church.

Scout Notes

Boy Scout Troop 26 will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Reformed Church, William Mills, scoutmaster.

Brownie Troop 120 will meet Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. at the Reformed Church Hall, Mrs. Robert Shlightner, leader.

Girl Scout Troop 30 meetings are postponed until further notice.

Girl Scout Troops 51 and 121 will meet Wednesday at 6:45 p. m. at the Reformed Church Hall, Miss Ella Jones and Miss Emily Card, leaders.

Boy Scout Troop 26 will hold a parents night Tuesday 7 p. m. at the Reformed Church. Scoutmaster William Mills requests one or both parents to attend as a matter of importance will be discussed.

Village Notes

Mrs. Alfred Whitaker is sponsoring a bus trip to New York City Dec. 12. Those wishing to go may contact Mrs. Whitaker at her home on Salem Street.

Miss Margaret Costello who has been a patient at the Kingston Hospital has returned to her home on Broadway.

Arthur Rafferty who has been a patient at the Benedictine Hospital for several weeks is now convalescing at his home on Salem Street.

Kingston Lodge Meets

A regular meeting of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F&AM Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue will precede an address by Ralph H. Schoenherr, potentate of Cyprus Temple, AAONMS will address the members.

All master masons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Rebel Veteran
Discusses Deer
Season Opening

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — White tail deer season opened in Texas today and Walter W. Williams, the old rebel would like to have been among the early morning hunters.

The last surviving veteran of the Civil War discussed the new deer season with a son shortly after nibbling on barbecued pork ribs while celebrating his 117th birthday.

The former Confederate forage master was 117 Saturday but the party was delayed until Sunday so some 100 descendants—including eight of 10 children — could help celebrate.

Several hundred visitors paid their respects to the old soldier at the little northwest Houston home where Willie Mae Bowles, a daughter, has cared for him for five years.

Williams had very little to say until B. W., one of five sons, arrived and joshed his father into his biggest smile of the day.

"You'd rather be up there in the woods hunting those deer than in this bed, hadn't you?" his son asked. "I remember when we used to hunt on horseback."

"I'm tired staying here," Williams said. "I don't feel bad and I can walk. I don't have any coat."

Grand Union Says Berries Approved

The local Grand Union store on Albany Avenue has been advised that its own brand of cranberries, called Fresh Pak, can be sold, it was announced today.

Kenneth J. Demski, manager of the store, has received a telephone call from Grand Union headquarters in Watford that the cranberries have been cleared for sale. The entire stock had been removed from shelves until their contents could be checked.

Shot by Own Gun

A Dutchess County youth, Thomas D. Williams, 17, of Staatsburg, was reported in good condition at Columbia County Memorial Hospital, Hudson, after his rifle backfired Sunday while he was target practicing on a farm at North Hillsdale. He will be operated upon today for removal of a small piece of metal which lodged in his eye. State Trooper M. Sanchez of Claverack investigated.

Paltz Man Shot
Removing Rifle
From His Sedan

Augustino Russo, 68, of Burleigh Road, New Paltz, was accidentally shot in his left hand Sunday morning when he attempted to remove a loaded 12-gauge double-barreled shot gun from his automobile.

He was using his left hand to pull it from the vehicle when it discharged. Some 20 sutures were required in his left hand. He was treated by a New Paltz doctor.

Russo, who had been target practicing on his property, had driven back to his home and was removing the gun from the car when it was discharged. He was arrested by Game Protector Al Roberts and Trooper Charles Geher of the Highland's state police for violation of the State Conservation Law (carrying a loaded gun in a car).

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tenaglia of the Town of New Paltz, entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $12.50.

Motorist Injured

In Rt. 212 Mishap

Henry Muller Jr., 72, of Forest Hills, was taken to Kingston Hospital early Sunday morning with injuries suffered when his car failed to negotiate a turn on Route 212 at its intersection with the Wittenberg road, Bearsville.

He suffered a fractured right forearm, multiple lacerations of the hand and face.

Trooper Richard Ryan of the Kingston state police said Muller was proceeding west on 212 when he failed to make a turn and struck a tree and large boulder.

Record Breaking Spree Dot Rawding's 672 New Record in Valley Loop

DOT RAWDING
Dot Rawding of Manhattan Bowling Balls raised the Hudson Valley Women's League individual series record to a rousing 672 Sunday, reeling off games of 224, 220 and 228 against Bowling Times Lanes.

Mrs. Rawding's big pining sparked the Manhattans to a new team record of 2740, as she eclipsed the former high of 657 held by teammate, Hilda Murphy. The MBs rolled 911-894-985 to hike their own record of 2724 in a 3-0 sweep.

Meanwhile, another Kingston bowler, Evelyn Gross of Sangi's, Bowlero set a new individual solo with 253. The old record was held by Lorraine Morrone of Rhinebeck.

Rose Schatzel slammed 203-6 206-587 and Hilda Murphy 558 to assist Rawding in the sweep over Bowling Time. The win enabled the MBs to retain a two-game lead over the Dutchess Rees. Ruth Babcock was the only BT bowler over the 500 mark, hitting 522.

Gross Fires 591
Evelyn Gross sandwiched her record breaking 253 with 148 and 190 and Ethel Henderson gave a powerful assist with a 202-576 slam, as the Bowlero Beauties rolled their highest series of the season—2606. Evelyn Nitsch contributed a 229 solo and 506

Successful Coach
Syracuse University football coach Ben Schwartzwalder has been more than a little successful against Colgate, Syracuse's traditional rival. Schwartzwalder has won nine games, including the last eight in succession, and lost just once.

Syracuse and Colgate, neighboring central New York schools, began their football rivalry in 1891.

Smedes Tallies Winning Score; Sickler Gets TD

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

After stopping Middletown's football team on its 20 late in the third period, the Kingston High School eleven bounced back and roared 80 yards in 13 plays, scoring a touchdown early in the fourth period to stop the pesky Middies, 12-6, in a DUSO contest Saturday at Dietz Stadium. The game played most of the way under a downpour which made the field a quagmire of mud.

Fullback Vinnie Smedes, who replaced the injured Bob Decker and did a standout job, tallied the winning TD from the two yard stripe.

The rest of the scoring was done in the first half. Richie Sickler scored 42 yards early in the second period to shoot the locals ahead. Just before half-time, Middletown quarterback Bill Sherlock tossed a seven yard scoring pass to Tom Slover.

The Middies took a KHS punt in the first period and raced to a first down before they were stalled. Some great line play up front by co-captains Bob Jenkins and Terry Kalish smothered three straight running plays after a first down had been recorded on the Kingston 43.

However, on fourth down, the locals were penalized 15 yards for roughing the kicker and the visitors had a first down on the KHS 27.

From that point, Ron Quick went for three yards, and, after a pass went incomplete, Sherlock drove to the 18 and then for a first down to the 15.

At this point, the Maroon line-men dug in. Terry Corkery and Kalish threw Sherlock for an 18 yard loss when he attempted to pass. On the next play, Bill lost nine yards more with Kalish leading the charge once again. That squelched the threat.

Kingston put a punt in play on the 10 and moved to the MHS 15 before losing it on downs. Smedes, who was just tremendous all afternoon under miserable conditions, was the big gainer with two good runs. Sickler and Bob Keating also took turns at the Middletown line.

However, after reaching the Middle 19 with a first and ten situation, Smedes was stopped for no gain and two passes fell incomplete after Sickler had picked up four yards.

Halfway through the second period, the locals put a punt in play on the 46. Keating banged to the MHS 45 on the first play and Smedes went to the 42 for a first down.

At the four minute mark, Sickler took a pitchout from quarterback Cliff Miller and headed up the middle. He was hemmed in at the 30 but he escaped the clutches of three tacklers and went into the end zone. The point try failed.

Middletown came right back. After putting the kickoff in play on the 35, Quick went all the way to the KHS 29 on a nifty reverse. From there it took only four plays to score the tying touchdown.

Sherlock Tosses

Don Walton banged to the 11 for another first down. Then it was Quick for a yard to the 10 and Ron Smith for three more to the seven. From there Sherlock, a definite All-DUSO candidate, passed seven yards to Slover in the end zone. The pass for the PAT was incomplete.

Halfway through the third quarter, the Maroon players halted a Middle drive on their 20 and they proceeded to march 80 yards to their final touchdown.

Keating carried seven times in the drive, which featured strictly running plays. His big gain was a 12 yard run from the MHS 42 to the 30.

He then went up the middle to the 21 and Sickler took it four yards more to the 17. After Keating was held to a one yard gain, Smedes bulled his way for six to the 10.

Vinnie Scores

Then it was Keating to the five and a first down. After Miller had recovered his own fumble at the line of scrimmage, Smedes carried it three yards to the two and then he took it over. Vinnie was stopped on his extra point try.

Jenkins stopped a desperation drive by the Middies when he intercepted a pass on his 30 and ran to the Middletown 45. The locals went to the 19 before losing on downs and they took over again for one play as time ran out.

The stage is now set for the climatic Thanksgiving Day struggles. Kingston will play host to Newburgh and the Maroon players can clinch second place by beating the NFA eleven. Middletown will meet Port Jervis with

Gallo Wins All-Star Eliminations

PUNT RETURN—Terry Kelley of Kingston is picking up yardage against Middletown Saturday after catching a punt. Moving in to tackle the Kingston player are Charles Smith (6), and Bill Sherlock (22). KHS won, 12-6, as Vinnie Smedes scored from the two in the last period. (Freeman photo).

Beats Versace For Top Spot With Late Rally

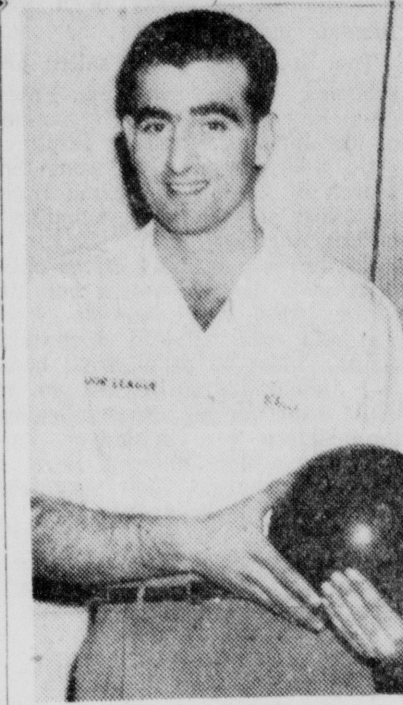

Rolling his best under pressure, Chris Gallo, Kingston's only entry in the All-Star eliminations, beat Phil Versace of Poughkeepsie in their head-to-head meeting yesterday at Monroe and went on to capture the Bowling Proprietors' tournament. Gallo will represent the Hudson Valley in the All-Star National tournament at Omaha, Neb., in January. He was sponsored in this tourney by Jo-Al's Restaurant of Kingston.

Chris went into yesterday's play trailing Versace by a few pins. He immediately ran into trouble with 173-145 his first two games while Phil had 203-201. From then on, Gallo started to find the pocket and Versace ran into all kinds of trouble.

Under the Peterson Point system of scoring, the two top keggers met each other the final game. Versace needed a win to take the tournament. However, Gallo rolled a neat 203 and Versace could only hit 195.

Gallo finished with 75.46 Peterson Points. Versace was second with 72.14. Then in order came Joe Congolosi of Middletown, 70.41, Pat Tarsio of Newburgh, 70.37, Jake Charter of Poughkeepsie, 69.06, Don Rampe of Liberty, 68.35, Hillar Adamson of Poughkeepsie 65.24, and Sam Fisher of Ellenville 64.46.

The Kingston star, who rolls with Jones Dairy in the Hudson Valley League, had led the qualifiers and was the most consistent shooter during the entire tournament. He well deserved his triumph.

Newburgh Beaten By Nyack, 27-6

Newburgh Free Academy football players, who only last Monday battled Poughkeepsie to a 7-7 standoff, were no match for Nyack on Saturday and suffered a 27-6 thrashing at the winner's field.

Halfback Ed Walker scored three times for Nyack, on runs of 20, 8 and 23 yards. The other touchdown came when tackle Al Jeffrey intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards.

Quarterback Garry Griffin sneaked across from the one in the first period for Newburgh's only score.

Nyack is 7-1 on the season while NFA has a 4-2-1 mark with Kingston remaining on its schedule.

Port Jervis Cagers Miss Many Veterans

More than 40 candidates reported for basketball tryouts at Port Jervis and Coach Pat Farace has trimmed his squad to 13 players. He anticipates the return of six or seven more when football bows out on Thanksgiving Day.

The Porters have suffered heavy losses from last year's squad which won the Section Nine championship. In fact, only one veteran, Tommy Coleman, will be back to help Farace this season.

Missing are such stalwarts as Harry Boyd, Wayne Ranich, Hugh Spangenberg, Bill Pepper and Ted Perkowski. In addition to Coleman, returnees include Tex Harding, Frank Bell, Joe Fleischer and Doug Taylor. They saw limited action last year.

Port Jervis opens its 18 game schedule on Friday, Dec. 4, at Delaware Valley. The first DUSO game is carded for Dec. 11 against Newburgh's defending champions.

Farace has some height in Sophomores Tex Westbrook and Dick Bachelder, plus rugged Junior, George Chandler. Bell, Mickey Smollins, Gibby Romaine

Merchants Now First; Jones Drops 2 Games

Buster Ferraro walloped a nifty 664 series as the Five Merchants of Kingston moved into a tie for first place in the Hudson Valley League with the Dutchess Rees by winning three games from Mazzucca's Esso. Jones Dairy, the pacesetter at the start of Saturday's action, lost a pair at Newburgh and tumbled to third.

The Merchants slugged a 3069 series to win their games handily. Buster had consistent efforts of 212-238-214. Hal Broskie chipped in with 202-237-190-629 and Tom Carlinio added 202-234-181-617.

Jack Ferraro did his best for the Milkmen with 230-214-179-623 but the others couldn't give him much help. Dick Waltman filled in for George Shufeldt and contributed 479. Gordon Mead helped Newburgh with 608 on solos of 205-221-182.

Sterling Studios dropped three games to the Holiday Rees of Wappingers as the locals could muster but 2483 sticks. Charles Gildersleeve had 590 for the Rees to finish as top scorer for the evening.

The winning side moving from the league's cellar.

Cobleskill Harriers Win in Invitational

ALFRED, N. Y. (AP) — Tom Farry of Schenectady shattered his own course record again in Saturday's national invitational cross-country meet here.

The 20-year-old speedster logged the three miles overland in 14:40 to spark his Cobleskill Tech squad to an easy triumph. Farry trimmed 10 seconds off the course mark he set earlier this year.

Cobleskill, which swept the first five places, had 15 points. Host Alfred Tech was next with 74. Low score wins.

Other finishing: New York City Tech, 77; Flint, Mich., Junior College, 95; Delhi Tech, 141; Mohawk Tech, 153; Farmingdale, L. I. Tech, 180; Erie Tech, 188; and Dutchess County Community College, 230.

Fearsome Foursome

The notoriety accorded the Sizable Seven, Syracuse University's starting line, caused Orange fans to shop around for a name for the Syracuse backfield of quarterback Dave Sarette and power-runners Ernie Davis, Art Baker and Ger Schwedes. Thus, the backfield group has been dubbed the Fearsome Foursome.

Magley Bombs 279 Solo, 658 for New Records

George (No Hit) Magley bombed a 279 solo and 658 series, both seasonal records for the Ferraro Mixed League, last night at the Bowlerama.

The former City League baseball pitcher launched the big series with a 223 on alleys 13 and 14, then dipped to 156 before tossing eight strikes in a row in the third game. His bid for a perfect 300 game was balked by a stubborn 5-pin in the ninth frame. He spared and then struck out in the tenth.

Jim Sims Gets 9th Position In State Event

Jimmy Sims of Kingston High School placed ninth in the New York State Public High School Athletic Assn. Cross-Country championship at Colgate University on Saturday.

Steve Killorin of Oceanside, L. I., was the winner of the "A" race in 13 minutes, 25.8 seconds over a very slow course. Jim Doxstader of Newburgh Free Academy was sixth in the race.

Freshman Joan Morris of New Paltz was 70th in the Class "B" race, won by Jack Dailey, Tappan Zee. Charles McKenna of Arlington High School was 12th.

Folley-Johnson Bout Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Since Ingemar Johansson upended Floyd Patterson, American boxing fans have been paying more attention to bouts in Europe and Britain. That is why there is interest on this side of the pond Tuesday night when a British heavyweight title match between champion Henry Cooper and ex-champ Joe Erskine.

If Cooper hadn't asked so much money ($140,000) he might have had the shot at Patterson that went to Brian London last May. Who knows what might have happened?

Cooper remained at home with the title he won by outpointing London last Jan. 12. He defended it in August against Gavie Deklerk. Tuesday he will give Erskine another chance. It was Erskine who was beaten in London in 1958 when Brian won the championship. Incidentally, both Cooper (1957) and Erskine (1958) were stopped by Johansson.

For television viewers, heavyweights also will be the feature dish on the Wednesday series. Zora Folley, the ranking contender from Chandler, Ariz., will box young Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh at Phoenix, Ariz. This is going to be one of those black tie, evening gown and dancing under the stars affairs at a motel in Phoenix. Prices for the charity affair are $25 for boxing, dinner, cocktails and dancing. The nation gets in free on ABC-TV.

Celts Continue Hot Pace in NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics have no worries of going victory-poor so long as the Cincinnati Royals are in the National Basketball Assn.

The Celtics have beaten the Royals 11 straight times, including a 134-128 triumph last night in Cincinnati.

The big difference was Boston's work on Jack Twyman, who had been averaging nearly 40 points a game. Twyman finished with only 10 points, two in the second half.

In other games, the Minneapolis Lakers defeated the Philadelphia Warriors, 106-100, and the Detroit Pistons whipped the New York Knickerbockers, 103-94.

Minneapolis' victory over the Warriors enabled the Lakers to climb out of the Western Division cellar. It was only the second defeat in 10 starts for Walt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and his Warriors.

Chamberlain hit for 26 points, two below his season average. Paul Arizin also had 26, but the balanced scoring performance of the Lakers — six of them in double figures — clinched it.

A national television audience watched the Pistons hand the Knicks their fifth straight defeat. Detroit never was behind. Gene Shue led the winners' attack with 26 points. Willie Naulls had 19 to top New York.

Saturday night, Boston edged St. Louis 113-111, Philadelphia whipped Minneapolis 104-98, Syracuse beat New York 116-108 and Detroit beat Cincinnati 111-103.

Colgate had the Indian Sign on Syracuse in football from 1925 through 1937. Colgate won 11, including 10 in a row, and the other two ended in ties. Syracuse won nary a game.

Syracuse University sophomore quarterback Dave Sarette, of Manchester, N. H., "has improved every Saturday," according to Colgate coach Ben Schwartzwalder.

'Greatest Team for Sure,' Remarks Colgate Grid Coach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They're a mighty happy bunch at Boston University, whose football team defeated inter-city rival Boston College Saturday for the first time in their last 11 meetings.

So even if Syracuse should put the crusher on BU next weekend, as it did to Colgate, some joy undoubtedly will remain at the Massachusetts school.

After BU, the Syracuse Orangemen take on UCLA Dec. 5 and then play the big one New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex.

Syracuse, the No. 1 team in the nation, rolled easily to a 71-0 victory Saturday over Colgate's helpless Red Raiders.

Naturally dejected, Colgate coach Alva Kelley still had praise for his conquerors.

"Syracuse is the greatest football team I ever coached against," he said. "I sure do agree with their number one rating in the country."

Mitchell Paces Cleveland; Giants Are Beaten, 14-9

Two Way Tie For 1st Spot In the East

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Fleet Bobby Mitchell, an undersized Jimmy Brown, has emerged from the shadow of his more illustrious Cleveland teammate while pulling the Browns into a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

With the 225-pound Brown stymied, the 180-pound Mitchell took over Sunday and scored three touchdowns as Cleveland overwhelmed the Washington Redskins 31-17 for a 6-2 record.

Mitchell, 23, who is in his second year as a pro, scored Cleveland's first TD by scampering 90 yards to pay dirt, then tacked on runs of 5 and 24 yards for additional tallies as he amassed 232 on the ground.

Mitchell, using rapier-like thrusts to open the defenses where Brown's bullding rushes failed, averaged 16.6 yards a try to come within five yards of Brown's single-game NFL record for total yardage rushing.

Steelers Next

Cleveland next meets the Pittsburgh Steelers who dumped New York into a tie for the top spot by beating the Giants 14-9 on Bobby Layne's touchdown pass with 1:29 left to play.

In the Western Division, the San Francisco 49ers had their lead cut to one game when the Chicago Bears threw up a brilliant defense for a 14-3 victory. The second-place Baltimore Colts edged Green Bay 28-24 on Johnny Unitas' three touchdown passes.

The 49ers (6-2) and Colts (5-3), defending NFL champions, clash at Baltimore next Sunday in a showdown contest.

In other games Philadelphia knocked off the Chicago Cardinals 27-17 and Detroit upended Los Angeles 23-17.

Despite Mitchell's fancy footwork, it took a 35-yard field goal by Lou Groza at the start of the second half to put the Browns in front to stay. Dick James and Johnny Olszewski, who set a club record with 190 yards gained rushing, gave Washington (3-5) a 14-14 halftime deadlock with scoring dashes of 4 and 19 yards, respectively.

Layne's second touchdown throw, 45 yards to Tom Tracy, ended New York's victory string at five games. The Giant offense, led by third-string quarterback Don Heinrich due to injuries to Charlie Conerly and George Shaw, couldn't get going against a tough Steeler (3-4-1) defense. For the second week in succession, Pat Summerall accounted for all the Giant scoring with 21, 27 and 29-yard field goals.

Intercept 5 Passes

The Bears (4-4) scored in the first period when Rick Casares capped a 48-yard drive with a yard plunge and that was all they needed against the 49ers. Intercepting five passes, the Chicagoans held San Francisco touchdown-less for the first time this season as neither Y. A. Tittle nor John Brodie had any success in the air. A 51-yard pass from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris closed out the scoring. Unitas' 24-yard heave to Jim Mitcheller in the final period was the clincher for the Colts, who handed the Packers (3-5) their fifth consecutive defeat. Connecting for a touchdown pass in his 33rd straight game, Unitas hit Ray Berry twice on 7 and 10-yard pitches. He has thrown 22 TD strikes this season. Jim Taylor scored three times for Green Bay to make it close.

Van Passes Click

Norm Van Brocklin kept the Eagles (5-3) Eastern title hopes alive by passing for two TDs and setting up the clincher, scored by Clarence Peaks on a yard plunge with five minutes remaining. Van Brocklin arched passes of 40 and 47 yards to Pete Retzlaff and Billy Barnes for scores. The loss dropped the Cardinals deeper into the cellar with a 2-6 mark.

John Henry Johnson came out of the Detroit doghouse to pace the Lions (2-5-1) triumph over the Rams (2-6). After sitting out a one-game suspension for an indifferent attitude and failure to catch a plane, Johnson picked up 56 yards in 19 carries and scored once on an 11-yard pass from Earl Morrill. Jim Martin's 25-yard field goal just before the half ended put the Lions in front for good.

CYO Basketball Clinic Set Tuesday; Openers Saturday

New Rochelle Wins Eleventh Straight, 55-20

Led by Arnie Austin's four touchdowns, New Rochelle rolled to a 55-20 victory over Mount St. Michael Saturday on the Mounties' field. The victory was the fifth for undefeated New Rochelle and extended its winning streak to 11 over two years. Kingston High was the last team to stop the Westchester County powerhouse.

Austin scored on runs of 58, 34 and 12 yards and on a 45-yard pass-run play from Dan Barrett. Barrett scored himself on a 25-yard sprint.

Frank Prosek kicked six extra points and ran for a seventh.

Waltman's 678 Paces In RVW League Sweep

NOT FOR HIM — Sammy Oates is in his second terrific season with Hardin-Simmons. There are lots of cheers for the pass-catching end, but he doesn't hear them. The sophomore is both deaf and dumb.

Dick Waltman unloaded a 678 series to pace Arthur Murray Studios to a 3-0 sweep over Dutchess Rec, while Jim Nottingham's 611 helped Jones Dairy to a 3-0 decision over Rhinebeck.

Waltman packed a 276 middle effort and other lines of 210 and 192, as the Studio keggers matched games of 976, 1063 and 919 for a seasonal effort of 2958. Joe Micozzi tossed 204-206-607 in the anchor slot. Art Scott decked 201-222-608 for the Dutchess keggers.

Nottingham had a high solo of 235 and Bob Coisson contributed a 231 in the Dairy sweep. The locals opened with 1017. Tony Vangel anchored Rhinebeck with 203-582.

Engineers and Physicists

in the field of

Electronic Ground Equipment

The Minuteman solid-propellant ICBM missile program at Boeing has created openings at all levels — INCLUDING TECHNICAL MANAGEMENT — for electronic-electrical engineers and physicists with B.S., M.S. or Ph.D. degrees. These are long-range positions with Boeing's Aero-Space Division, offering opportunities for advancement. Salaries range from $10,000 a year.

Assignments are in the field of design and integration of electronic systems for Minuteman ground electronic digital equipment. Positions require the development of a broad knowledge of Minuteman weapon system design and the application of this knowledge to ground equipment development. Applicants should have six years of experience in electronic circuit development and system design, four years of this in the digital equipment field.

Location is Seattle, Washington, where you'll enjoy the advantages of the evergreen Pacific Northwest area, famous for mild year-round climate, unexcelled recreational facilities and outdoor Western living. Boeing pays relocation allowances.

Forecast for State

Through Saturday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Here are the extended weather forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Saturday:

Eastern New York—About normal mid-November weather is expected during the week with temperatures averaging around or just under normal levels. Moderate to mild at the beginning, with showers or some light rain developing Tuesday into early Wednesday. Colder trend developing Wednesday. Warming again by Friday night and Saturday. A period of showers by Saturday. Total precipitation up to ½ inch.

Western New York—Changeable weather is indicated with temperatures expected to average several degrees below normal. Showers and mild tonight and early Tuesday. Turning cold with snow flurries and squalls late Tuesday and Wednesday. Moderating again about Thursday followed by rain or snow. Cold Saturday with snow squalls. An average of more than ½ inch of melted precipitation is expected.

Temperature Normals—Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from overnight lows in the upper 20s to mid 30s, to daytime highs in the mid 40s to low 50s.

Woman Declares She Gave Blood To Cuban Major

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An American woman says she donated blood directly to Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos while the Cuban government sponsored a widespread search for him.

A copyrighted story in the Sunday Miami News quoted Vani L. Maris, 39, a practical nurse, as saying Cienfuegos lay apparently near death during the transfusion Nov. 5.

Cienfuegos, who disappeared Oct. 28 en route from Camaguey to Havana in a light plane, was mourned by the Cuban government Saturday.

Mrs. Maris could not be reached for elaboration on her statements. She was described as a native of South Dakota and former medical technician in Reading, Pa.

The News said Mrs. Maris, wearing nun's dress because it "opened doors" went to Camp Liberty near Havana after reports that Cienfuegos was injured in a plane crash. She asked to give blood for the major, whom she knew personally.

The transfusion was made in 30 minutes and Mrs. Maris left with a receipt which said she gave blood for Cienfuegos, one of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's top revolutionary lieutenants.

She said she heard nothing about Cienfuegos' condition afterward and left Cuba for Miami at the request of a Cuban officer Wednesday.

MOOSE GIVE TESTIMONIAL—In recognition of his service to the community and environs in a civic and philanthropic way, Bob Browning, WGHQ newscaster, is guest at testimonial promoted by Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose. Attending the event Sunday are (seated l-r) Alderman-at-Large Harold Kaye; Browning, a 17-year-veteran of the microphone; and Ed Eckert, WRGB-TV staffer, a long-time friend of the guest of honor, who was toastmaster. Standing, Edward Cline, governor of the Moose Lodge; Harry Coale, dinner chairman and Albert Eisele, junior governor of the Moose, who served as dinner co-chairman. (Freeman photo)

Browning Lauded For Serving Area As Radio Newscaster

Bob Browning, well-known radio personality, was honored with a testimonial dinner Sunday evening by Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose, at its lodge on Prince Street.

Browning who, for the past 17 years has served as a radio newscaster in Kingston, broadcasting from his quarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel, was cited for his "skill, accuracy, courage, optimism and general beneficent influence on the community."

He was presented with a gold plaque in token of the affection and respect in which he is held by the community. The lodge also presented him with a membership card.

Kingston Uniformed Firemen's Association, Local 461, presented Browning with a citation, mentioning his cooperation and helpfulness to all organizations in the area.

Edward Eckert, a former Kingston radio commentator, now with WRGB-TV, Schenectady, who served as toastmaster last night, said that when he came to Kingston as a novice in 1946 Browning had taught him the ropes. "I owe an awful lot to Bob," he said.

Bob Kaye, alderman-at-large, spoke of Browning as a fine gentleman of many virtues and wished him good health and success.

On behalf of Mayor Edwin F. Radel, he presented Browning with a citation which mentioned Bob's long, devoted services to the community during the past 17 years. The citation pointed out that Bob's voice was familiar throughout the Hudson Valley, and that Browning was likeable and beloved and that his friendship was cherished.

Frederick H. Stang, a former mayor of Kingston, now president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, said he had known Bob through many years and has many reasons for the high respect in which he holds him, both as newscaster and friend.

He said Bob accepts things as they are and goes ahead whether in pain or not, which takes courage. He never complains, Stang told his audience. "I hope we will hear Bob's voice for many years. Thank God for Bob Browning."

Harry Thayer, general manager for Station WGHQ, said that several months ago, when Bob Browning was in the hospital for four days, he had taken over for Bob, had collapsed himself and gone to the hospital for two weeks.

He explained that few people realize the effort, worry and time required in preparation of a broadcast. "We are here to pay tribute to a man we recognize as a champ."

Pictures of the dinner were taken by a WRGB-TV photographer and will be shown at 11 p. m. today on Eckert's news broadcast over Channel 6.

Survey Shows Business Gains for N.Y. Suburbs

NEW YORK (AP)—Big gains in retail trade in New York City suburbs in the postwar period are pictured in preliminary results of the 1958 federal census of business.

The new retail business reported in the suburbs was largely taken away from Manhattan. But the figures indicate that Manhattan transacted at least as much business in 1958 as it did in 1948.

Nassau was shown to be the chief gainer in retail business among New York suburban counties.

Suffolk, Westchester and Rockland counties scored big gains in both retail receipts and retail turnover.

After the Haul Is Over

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A moving crew auffed and puffed its way down two floors of the Stroud Community House with a baby grand piano they had been hired to haul away. The piano was loaded when the crew was advised it was the piano on the third floor they were supposed to move.

Pope Increases Catholic Cardinals College to 79

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named eight new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church. They included two Americans, Archbishop Albert Gregory Meyer of Chicago and Aloysius J. Muench of Fargo, N.D.

The Pope's action increased the College of Cardinals to 79 members, its largest size in the history of the church.

The elevation of Archbishop Meyer, 56, had been expected since he succeeded the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch as archbishop of Chicago just a year ago today. His archdiocese is the largest in the United States, having nearly two million members.

Both the new American cardinals are natives of Milwaukee, and Archbishop Meyer headed the archdiocese there for five years before going to Chicago.

Archbishop Muench, 70, has been representing the Vatican as papal nuncio to Germany since World War II but has retained his post as head of the North Dakota archdiocese.

The eight new princes of the church will be elevated to their high office on Dec. 14 in a consistory in the Vatican's Consistorial Hall.

Those named with the two Americans were Joseph Heard,

Dutchess Hunter Suffers Attack While at Lunch

George L. Smith, 56, of Forest Hills, died early Sunday morning when he suffered a heart attack while dining at the Sawdust Trail Restaurant located between Rhinebeck and Red Hook in Dutchess County.

Smith suffered the attack during a late evening meal about 12:15 a. m., according to Rhinebeck state police.

He was pronounced dead at 1:10 a. m. by Dr. William Thompson, assistant Dutchess County medical examiner. His body was removed to the North- rhinebeck Dutchess Health Center, Rhinebeck, and later to the White Funeral Home, Rhinebeck. It has been returned to Forest Hills for burial.

A piece of food was lodged in Smith's throat but death was caused by heart attack and not suffocation, it was reported.

Smith was in Dutchess County for a weekend hunting trip.
